Planners Order Work Stopped At Country Club Development

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Continuing work at Andover Country Club Estates, a 360-acre cluster subdivision, came up for discussion before two town boards this week — with two far different results.

While the Board of Selectmen Monday night told abutters there was little they could do about blowing sand and dust in one section of the development, the Planning Board Tuesday night ordered work stopped at another section.

The planners said developer Yvon Cormier may not continue work in section four, located at the end of Canterbury Street and bounded by Route 495 and Beacon Street, until he has taken steps to prevent soil from blowing around in that section.

Board members voted unanimously to hold Cormier's performance bond, a $25,000 bank passbook, until he has stabilized the area.

And if the developer does not stabilize the exposed area (by planting vegetation or using netting if necessary), the planners indicated that they would use his bond money to have the work done by another contractor.

Cormier has been working on the subdivision section by section for the past five years. Eventually some 270 homes will be built on the site, which is bounded by Lowell Street, Canterbury Street, Beacon Street and Chandler Circle.

Last October, the planning board approved a special permit for earth removal and regrading for section four, along with subdivision plans for the section. The developer proposed 38 house lots for the 38.9-acre section. His plans also called for relocating three fairways (seven, eight and nine) on the country club golf course.

When the planners approved the earth removal permit last fall, they stipulated that the developer must return to them when he had completed clearing trees from the land — and that he was not to proceed with regrading until they had reviewed the status of the work.

This week, the board found that Cormier had violated that condition of their approval: on that basis, they ordered work stopped at section four and decided to hold the bond.

Engineer Arthur Fosse of Dana F. Perkins Associates represented the developer before the planners Tuesday night. Cormier was not present.

Fosse said construction crews began cutting fairway eight about three and one-half weeks ago, removing and stockpiling loam; the entire fairway has been regraded and is now close to final grade, he said.

Chairman Margaret Bradshaw pointed out that under the terms of the permit, that work should not have been done without the board's approval. The point of that stipulation, she explained, was to make sure land was not left exposed — and likely to blow around the area — during the dry summer months.

Unless the area is stabilized within the next two weeks, "it's going to be a dust bowl," the chairman said. "This shouldn't have begun," Bradshaw said that if the developer had come before the board three and one-half weeks ago, the board would have told him to delay the regrading work until next fall.

By violating the conditions of the October approval, Cormier has shown "a complete lack of good faith," Bradshaw said. Planner Paul Curley added that by proceeding with regrading section four, the developer is "just blatantly ignoring everything we try to do" to control blowing sand and dust at the country club.

According to Fosse, the developer began regrading section four because Public Works Director Robert McQuade wanted to begin laying town water mains in the area, and the land had to be brought to grade for that reason. But board members said that did not "relieve" the developer from notifying the planners first.

The engineer added that Community Development and Planning Director Jonathan Gilmore learned about the work taking place on section four two weeks ago. Gilmore was not present Tuesday night.

Blowing sand and dust was also on the minds of a large and unhappy group of Lowell Street residents who appeared before the selectmen Monday night. Those residents were concerned about the status of two other sections of the development, sections one and two off Canterbury Street, where many houses have already been completed.

John Corey of Lowell Street told the board residents have been "continually objecting to sand and dust" from the country club construction for the past five years: "Every year it's the same thing."

Lowell Street resident Peter Minicucci added that country club residents are being "sand-blasted." Blowing sand is destroying property and "hurting people who live

Recipient Of Russem Scholarship

Someday Dawn Marie Acheson hopes to be a surgeon but for now she will have to be satisfied living the life of a college student while holding down four jobs.

Acheson, a junior at Merrimack College, works as a phlebotomist at the Lawrence General Hospital, Lawrence, an aide at the college monastery, a tutor at the North Andover college and a head waitress for the food service there. The Andover resident was recently honored for all these activities when she was presented with the Benjamin Russem Memorial Award, a $300 scholarship from Merrimack's Russem Family Zedakah Foundation.

The annual award winner must be a Greater Lawrence resident and a commuter student. In addition, Acheson was judged on her intelligence, integrity, leadership and civic involvement. Acheson is a dean's list chemistry major. She was named to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" this year.

On Dean's List

Andover students named to the Dean's List at Bates College, Lewiston, Maine for the second semester include Christopher C. Lynch, son of Charles and Marie Lynch; John B. McAllister III, son of John and Beverly McAllister and Allison Webster, daughter of Ralph and Lee Webster.

Town House Topics

Parking, License Rules Waived

With the selectmen's agreement, the town manager will temporarily waive one of Andover's parking rules next month, along with one of its liquor licensing rules.

The board Monday night agreed to let the manager waive the two-hour parking restriction on Essex Street from 8 a.m. to noon the week of July 1 (which includes the Independence Day holiday) to accommodate the Baptist Church, which will hold Bible School sessions that week.

And the board okayed Town Manager Kenneth Mahony's request to waive one-day liquor license fees for all town-sponsored events (including, for example, those sponsored by the Council on Aging or the Community Services Department).

Mahony explained that those fees have been merely moving "from one pocket to another," since they were both collected from and paid to the town.

Shetland Renovations Expanded

Shetland Building Four Trust has expanded its plans to renovate a ten-story building at York and Haverhill streets (part of the Shetland Properties), and the developers are now seeking $1.9 million in industrial revenue bonding, rather than their original request for $1 million.

The Board of Selectmen Monday night approved the amended request from the developers, and their bond request must now be approved by the Andover Industrial Development Financing Authority. The IDFA will hold a public hearing on the plans June 29. Ordinarily, the IDFA reaches a decision before recommending approval of a bond request to the selectmen. However, the developer hopes to win final approval of the bonding at a July 12 meeting of the Massachusetts Industrial Finance Authority — and the selectmen are not scheduled to meet again until July 16.

The developers plan to renovate the 280,000-square foot building, at a total estimated cost of $2.1 million, to provide new and improved commercial, industrial, research and development, and office space. Their site is part of the Shawsheen Village Commercial Area Revitalization District (CARD).

Licenses, Permits Approved

During a long and rather warm meeting at the town offices on Bartlet Street Monday night, the Board of Selectmen approved a variety of licenses and permits, including a number of utility permits and a request for a fall block party.

The board approved Massachusetts Electric Co.'s request for a permit to construct underground electrical conduits under Charlotte Drive and Bellevue Road to provide new services.

New England Telephone was given permission to lay and maintain underground conduits and manholes under River Road to serve portions of the industrial park.

Bay State Gas Co. was granted permission to excavate at 1 Bradley Road to install gas service; and retroactive approval of emergency repair work completed during May in Summer at Pasho streets, 8 Judson Road, and 8 Lincoln St.

Russell G. Doyle of Evergreen Lane won permission to store 5,000 gallons of gasoline and/or diesel fuel in an underground tank at 43 River Road.

Robert Arsenault of 21 Merrimack St., North Andover, was granted a common victualler's license for a mobile vendor's unit.

Sheraton-Rolling Green Fitness Center will hold its second annual five-mile road race on July 27, starting at 7 p.m., with the selectmen's approval.

The West Parish Neighborhood Association will hold its annual block party on Cutler Road on Sept. 15 (rain date: Sept. 16), with the selectmen's approval. The road will be closed from Bateson Drive to Reservation Road/Oriole Drive from 4 p.m. until dark for the party.

And, acting as sewer commissioners, the board approved sanitary sewer connections for Olympic Construction's Andover Condominium. Railroad Street: Karl and Bessie Haartz, High Plain Road: Harold and Janice Hayes, Flint Circle: I. Winn and J. Hoffman, Shattuck Office Park, Old River Road, and Vazza Property's Andover I-93 Office Park, River Road.

Andover Canoe Trip

Day trip canoeing leaders in the Andover area urge those wanting to participate in the Merrimack River Watershed Council Headwaters-to-the-Sea canoe trip to contact Margaret Pustell in Andover for registration and information.

Four trips, varying in time and ability, are offered to Andover area paddlers who would to join the core group of Watershed Council paddlers as they pass through the Andover area on their way to the Merrimack River in Salisbury on June 23.

Morning only paddlers will travel from Lowell to Andover. The afternoon group will cover Andover to Lawrence. The all-day trippers will paddle from Lowell to Haverhill. A short trip in the Andover area only is also offered. Each canoe trip leader is trained in safety and canoeing skills and is familiar with the Merrimack River.

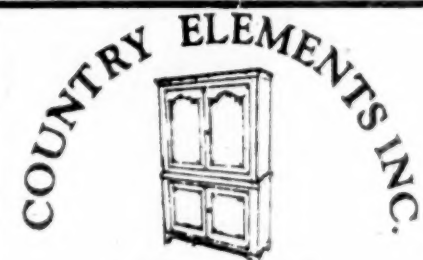

Non-canoeists are invited to picnic with the paddlers at the Deer Jump Reservation in Andover at 11:30 a.m. and to enjoy a noon talk by a biologist from the Massachusetts Division of Marine Fisheries on the restoration of anadromous fish species in the Merrimack River.

IRS Honors Employees For Service

The Internal Revenue Service honored five Andover area residents at a Career Service Awards ceremony Tuesday, June 5, at the Andover Service Center.

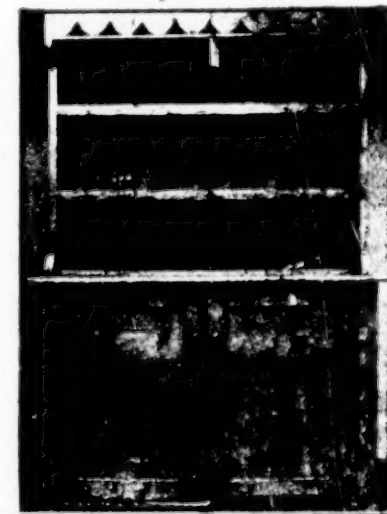

Patrick J. Ruttle, director of the Internal Revenue Service Center in Cincinnati, Ohio, was guest speaker. He is a former assistant director of the Andover Service Center and resident of Andover.

Joseph H. Cloonan, director of the Andover Service Center, presented an award to Maryann C. Robinson for 25 years of service and to Ida M. Guglielmino for 20 years of service. They are both from North Andover. Fifteen-year awards were given to Pauline T. Wrigley, Andover, John J. Armano and Alice Huminick of North Andover.

Scully Is Campaign Chairman

James T. Scully, principal of the Hennessey School in Lawrence, has accepted the position of general chairman of the Greater Lawrence area for the Merrimack Valley United Fund 1984-85 campaign.

Scully is not new to the United Fund organization. He has volunteered in various capacities for the past 10 years.

"I believe in the United Fund and volunteer to work on the campaign because I have seen the services working in the community and know that the fund operates very efficiently," said Scully. "Important, too, is how the fund scrutinizes its member agencies to make sure they are also cost effective."

The Merrimack Valley United Fund has the lowest administration costs of any fund of its size in the country. In 1983, 93.8¢ of every dollar contributed went directly to the member agencies.

As examples of community services at work, Scully cites the fact that better than 80 percent of the children at the Hennessey School receive some type of service from a United Fund member agency. These agencies include Big Brother/Big Sister Association of Gr. Lawrence, North Essex Boy Scouts, Spar & Spindle Girl Scouts, Lawrence Boys' Club and various counseling programs.

Scully feels that volunteers motivate each other. Dick Kapelson, owner of Kap's Stores, has volunteered to head the commercial division for Greater Lawrence this year. "If a man as busy as Dick Kapelson, owner of three stores and active with both the Bon Secours and Lawrence General Hospitals, can take the time to help, others can't refuse."

A resident of North Andover, Scully is active with the Lawrence Boys' Club, Greater Lawrence Chapter Red Cross and the Bon Secours Hospital.

Sam Malandrino

'Super Sam' Is Honored

Sam Malandrino has been custodian at West Elementary school for 16 years. Recently, during "Andover—No Better Place to Learn Week," the students, staff and parents honored Sam with "Super Sam" Day. He received many gifts including drawings and poems by the students. The sixth grade sang a song in his honor.

Sam took great pride in "his" school and was proud of the many compliments he received in the cleanliness of the building. He was more than a custodian. He was a friend to all the students, staff and parents of West.

Anniversary Meeting For Group

The Merrimack Valley Alzheimer Support Group will observe its first anniversary at a meeting Sunday, June 24, at 7 p.m. at Stevens Hall Convalescent Home, 75 Park St., North Andover.

The event will begin with a wine and cheese reception, followed by the viewing of the documentary, "Whispering Hope."

A speaker will conduct commentary and discussion following the movie.

Planners Aid Energy Conservation

Representative Sue Tucker wants Andover businessmen and businesswomen to be aware of an exciting new program to reduce energy costs in Merrimack Valley businesses and industry.

"Energy is a major cost of doing business in Massachusetts," Representative Tucker stated, "and too many owners have not spent the time or money to determine exactly how to save energy and money."

This program provides an incentive by offering a free energy audit and low-interest loans for energy improvements. According to Tucker, businesses of 20 to 400 employees are eligible for the program, which will be administered by the Merrimack Valley Planning Commission.

The money for the $50,000 program is coming from funds returned to the state because of oil company overcharges. Tucker said that Secretary of Energy Sharon L. Pollard is to be commended for establishing business audits as a priority.

Representative Tucker hopes this program will benefit some Andover businesses and welcomes inquiries.

On Dean's List

Andover students enrolled at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N.Y., who attained Dean's List status for the spring semester include:

Gregory Beninati, 12 Whispering Pines, a junior majoring in mechanical engineering.

Robert Scott Harris, 2 Forest Drive, a freshman majoring in biomedical engineering.

Alvin Richard Ohlenbusch, 15 Smithshire Estates, a freshman majoring in computer science.

Jerome F. Witt, 20 Chatham Road, a sophomore majoring in electrical engineering.

Break Dancing Featured At Fourth Observance

"Total Eclipse," a professional break dancing group, will be featured in the new format of Andover's Fourth of July Celebration. The well known group features four dancers and will give a free demonstration as well as free large group instruction.

Festivities will begin promptly at 10 a.m. when the traditional "Horribles Parade" winds its way through downtown Andover. The "Horribles Parade" is a participant's parade. The committee invites children of all ages to come dressed in something horrible and be a part of the parade. The New Liberation Jazz Band will lead the parade again.

A prize will be given to each participant in the parade. Awards will be made for such categories as "Most Horrible," "Best Pet," "Best Decorated Bicycle," and in each of those categories an award will be made for the category. The prize will be a free ride

A hot air balloon exhibition and rides is the other new twist to this year's festivities. A very special balloonist will bring his balloon to the park, which will be set up at 3:30 p.m. in the Playstead. Rides will commence at 5:30 p.m., following an exhibition.

Morning activities at the Playstead will include games for the children and a field day for older youths. Families are invited to bring a lunch and enjoy the fun.

Following a mid-day break, festivities will resume with the break dancing, followed by a band concert at 7 p.m.

A family movie will conclude the day at dusk.

The Committee for Patriotic Observances is a non-profit group of citizens whose only mission is to see that the Town of Andover celebrates, with fun, an old fashioned Fourth.

West Students Honored

Five West Elementary School students were honored on June 11 by the Environmental Protection Agency for their entries in the annual Elementary Education Ecology Poem and Poster Program at the Park Plaza Hotel in Boston. The students had been chosen from thousands of entries from all six New England states. Mike O'Connell, Boston Bruins' star defenseman, presented the awards to the winners.

The five honored submitted entries were either posters or poems depicting the need for protection and changes in our environment. They were chosen from submitted entries within the fourth grade classes and a fifth grade class. Fifteen entries were sent to the judging panel from the school out of all the students' work but praise should go to all students who took time to enter their work.

Two fourth graders, Stephanie Givens and David Reynolds, received certificate awards for being in the top 200 honored. Holly Parker, a fourth grader, and Jenny Wu and Debbie Goldman, fifth graders, received plaques to recognize them as highest honors students among the top 100 chosen.

This meeting is jointly sponsored by the Andover Republican Town Committee and the Merrimack Valley Republican Committee.

Harrington To Address GOP Groups

Edward F. Harrington, a Carter-appointed U.S. attorney, Dukakis-appointed member of the Alcoholic Beverage Commission and a Democrat of many years, recently joined the Republican Party. He is committed to speaking to the issues and will be at the Sheraton Rolling Green June 27 at 8 p.m.

Recycling Drop-off Remains Active

Townpeople recycling regularly at the paper and glass drop-off center downtown are getting to be like old friends to recycling workers who keep the area in order.

The center is located in the inner corner of the town parking lot at Park and Bartlett where Purity Supreme-Heartland used to be.

Many regular customers are remarking that they find the present system more convenient than curbside pickup. It would certainly appear that many have been inspired to clear out large accumulations of magazines like "National Geographic" that subscribers often save for years for reference. Large collections of magazines dating back to the 1960s have been recycled in the last few weeks, along with the usual weekly piles of newspapers and current magazines. A few people are still trying to recycle all kinds of boxes not made of corrugated cardboard. These are not wanted. Magazines, newspapers and corrugated cardboard only are requested and householders are asked not to bring shoe, disposable diaper, cereal or detergent boxes, junk mail, plastic bags or other non-recyclable materials, even such odd surprises as clothing and laundry dryer lint have turned up occasionally.

Ninety-nine percent of the paper recycled is thoughtfully prepared, neatly contained in paper grocery bags or tied with string in bundles that stack well from floor to ceiling of the walk-in paper container. With "building blocks" like these, paper can be packed safely and securely in the container with no waste space.

Over Two Decades Of Escorting Children Will End Next Week

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Priscilla Watson was drafted into duty 25 years ago, and her husband had his doubts about the whole business. Jessie Dunn volunteered for duty 23 years ago, with her husband's encouragement.

Next week they're both retiring — and next fall, two new faces will replace them at the school crossings they've guarded for years.

Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Dunn began serving as school crossing guards when the idea was a new one, Mrs. Watson notes. And over was one of the first towns in Massachusetts to have crossing guards.

The two are friends who together made the decision to retire this year. Mrs. Dunn says, concluding that with nearly 50 years of service between them, the time had come to turn in their uniforms.

Monday night, the Board of Selectmen thanked the guards by presenting them with certificates of appreciation. Last week, they shared a joint retirement party at the Pond View restaurant in Kingston, N.H.

And at 10 o'clock next Tuesday, each will shepherd a group of little ones safely across the street for the last time.

Priscilla Watson, originally from Methuen and a Methuen High School graduate, came to Andover 44 years ago. She lives on Prospect Street with her husband, William, their three children are all grown and married. William, Jr. lives in Windham, N.H., and they live next door on Prospect Street to Jennifer Krill, lives in Las Vegas, Nev.

Mrs. Watson owned and operated the Prospect Book Shop at the corner of Main Street and Pynchard Avenue for a few years. She had a small fortune, but gave it up to start her family.

She was not looking for a new career when an officer from the Andover Police Department knocked on her door and asked if she'd like to work as a school crossing guard. "I was at first, other guards were already on the job. The officer was an acquaintance who thought the job was something I would like," she explains.

Twenty-five years ago, Mrs. Watson says, "Waves weren't expected to work. My husband was very resistant. And at first, she was too enthusiastic about the offer herself. Why would I want to put on a uniform and stand out in the middle of the street for everyone to see?"

But she gamely gave it a try anyway. Her post was in the median strip in front of Phillips Academy, between Salem Street and Chapel Avenue. She was on duty for an hour in the morning, an hour at noon, and forty-five minutes in the late afternoon.

To her surprise, "I loved it. I enjoyed being out in the fresh air and talking to people. And the hours were ideal because she worked while her children were in school, and was at home when they were home."

For several years, Mrs. Watson began her day outside West Junior High, then moved up to Wheeler Street near the academy, went back to the junior high in the afternoon, and then returned to Wheeler Street.

She also served for a time at the corner of Main Street and Pynchard Avenue in the morning and afternoon, and at the corner of Chestnut and Bartlett streets at noon.

Her Phillips Academy post was eliminated when students began taking buses to school. And along the way her noontime hours were also eliminated, as students began to eat lunch in school cafeterias instead of at home.

The guard has been stationed at Holt Road and Salem Street, "my own territory," for about six years now. She finds that spot so peaceful that "it's like being put out to pasture."

Why has she stayed on duty for so many years? "I love people," Mrs. Watson says. "I love dealing with people. And this gives me an excuse for standing out on a street corner to enjoy the good weather."

She's enjoyed her young charges, too. "I love the kids — I've had great kids. Last year I was invited to the sixth-10th graduation at Bancroft School, because I'd had those kids all through school. I've always had very good relations with the kids."

Mrs. Watson has good words as well for the Police Department and the two schools she has served under: Dalton North and James Dalton.

There's also another reason for her long tenure. Mrs. Watson had at first intended to work for ten years. "I told myself, 'When Billy graduates, I'll get out of this business. But he had a bad cold' (he was 15) and then I thought, 'I might as well go to 20.' I was to do things in my old frame. I could never have stopped at 16 years."

At her twenty-fifth year anniversary, and with her husband's encouragement, she grew old and made a new look some more. And I could have lived at going to 30 years."

She's looking forward to traveling and taking more time to rest. But she will miss her retirement with "mixed feelings." I never thought I'd stay at this job for 25 years," Priscilla Watson says. "I never thought I'd stay at it. I must say I've loved it."

Jessie Dunn is an Andover native. She grew up on Main Street, and graduated from the former Ridge School, Andover Junior High School, which later became East Junior High, and Pynchard High School.

Today, she lives on Andover Street with her husband of 41 years, Robert. They are the parents of two grown children: Daniel, who lives in California; Laraine Blaise, who lives in California; Sharon LaPlante, who lives in Texas; and Robin Erler of North Andover.

Although she put in some time at Dalton's drug store and Sid White's ice cream stand (now Rose Glen Dairy) in her younger days, Mrs. Dunn regards her school crossing guard position as her first "real job" — one she's held for the past 23 years.

Applying for the job was her husband's idea, she explains. "There was a guard who stood right outside my house, and I heard she was leaving. My husband said, why not Priscilla Watson waves a bicyclist through the intersection of Salem Street and Holt Road. The school crossing guard, who will retire next week with 25 years of service to her credit, finds that she assists more cyclists than walkers on their way to school.

Crossing guard Jessie Dunn provides a safe crossing for two students on their way to South School. Mrs. Dunn will retire next week after 23 years of service as a school crossing guard in Andover.

Townsman Photos By Carl Russo

So I went down to the police station and applied."

The rumors about the Andover Street guard were wrong. "She didn't leave." But a few months later an opening did come along, and Mrs. Dunn took it. Her first assignment was at the corner of Elm and Whittier streets, where she remained for nine years.

Like Mrs. Watson, she worked in the morning before school, the afternoon after school, and at noon until that shift was eliminated.

After Elm Street, she was in charge of "hot spots" at many places, including posts at St. Augustine's School, in Shawshoek and Ballardville, and at Pynchard Avenue at noon time.

For the past eight years or so, Mrs. Dunn has been on duty on Ballardville Road and Andover Street at South School. The best part of her work has always been, she says, the young students. "I like the little kids — they're cute."

And that feeling has always been re-

Successful Year For Student Council

By Melissa Morton

This year's Doherty Junior High student council was led by President Peter Barry, Treasurer Melissa Morton, Vice President Matt Corbett, Secretary Steve Mencis and faculty advisor Gary Hendrickson. The following students contributed a great deal of effort throughout the year, serving on the student council: Ninth graders Cristin Ackley, Carrie Clark, Denise Doran, Martha Frazier, Jeff Hart, Karen Goldberg, Nancy Lee, Tony Lautieri, Karen Mitchell, Jimmy Pfeiffer, Rob Schmidt, Ann Taylor, Mark Tucker, Gillian Recesso, Mark Abate and Amy Johnson; Eighth graders Katie Holleneck, Aleke Msumba, John Pratt, Jennifer Kasper, Christine Colangeli, David Grace, Mike Duffy, Bart Kalkstein and Laura Bicknell; Seventh graders Lindsey Curley, Bobby Hughes, Pauline Koh, Amy Mencis, Pat McNamara, Allison Scileppi, Kurt Seifert and Julie Darwin.

Student council meetings were held each Monday after school to plan activities. Each week an article is written for the TOWNSMAN. A major part of the activities is conducting service projects, social events and money raising. A series of murals were made to decorate the cafeteria and promote school pride and the school activity calendar is kept up-to-date to inform students of upcoming events.

The major responsibility of the student council this year is running the school store.

The store opened this year and is slowly growing to be a major student council project. Entirely managed and operated by students, the store is open every day before and after school. Such items as t-shirts, hats, pencils, pens, bookcovers, pennants, candy, cola and donuts are sold. Ordering, stocking, selling and accounting duties are done by student council members. The council plans to expand the store's inventory next year.

Community service has been a very important part of the activities each year. A canned food drive was held in November. A total of 3,600 cans were collected in homerooms and donated to the Salvation Army. The drive was organized and run by Matt Corbett and Jennifer Kasper.

Each grade conducted community service projects during the Christmas season. The ninth grade ran four projects and many students were involved in supporting them. The first was a Christmas party for the senior citizens who attended Doherty for the lunch program. Money was collected in homerooms to support this function. The cafeteria was decorated, gifts were purchased and distributed, special refreshments were baked and a dance contest was held. The party was a tremendous success and greatly appreciated by the people who attended. This service project was planned and run by Carrie Clark, Cristin Ackley and a committee of interested students from homerooms 211, 210, 202 and 128.

The second project, run by Anthony Lautieri and Mark Tucker, was held at the Academy Manor Nursing Home. Throughout the building decorations were hung. A group of students visited to sing Christmas carols and gifts were given to the nursing home.

The next project was conducted by the ninth grade student council members and led by Ann Taylor and Peter Barry. A half day was spent at the Christ Church Professional Handicapped Nursery School where a Christmas party was hosted for the children. Three students were assigned to each room to help with the children. Money was raised to decorate and purchase toys for the school. The students enjoyed the experience which was also appreciated by the teachers and children at the nursery.

The final ninth grade project involved donating baked goods to Bread and Roses in Lawrence. Bread and Roses is an organization that serves food to the less fortunate in Lawrence. All the ninth grade homerooms baked desserts. The food was then delivered to Lawrence.

The eighth and seventh grades also ran service projects. At the annual Family Night in downtown Andover, the eighth grade conducted a free raffle and refreshment table. The items for the raffle were donated by various town merchants. Baked goods were collected in eighth grade homerooms. The seventh grade ran a very successful Christmas party for the Special Needs class at Doherty. Each student was given an Andover t-shirt, financed through contributions made by the seventh grade.

A major clean-up day was held at Doherty on Saturday, April 7. A group of 20 students sacrificed their time to clean the school. Students worked from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. All rooms, hallways, the gym, auditorium, cafeteria and the entire grounds were cleaned. Chalk boards, desks and floors were washed and bathroom vandalism was cleaned. A bathroom and the school store were painted.

As other services, student council members worked as ushers at the Fall Open House, sold hot chocolate and donuts at Doherty football games and conducted sales of the school's newspaper, yearbook and cabaret tickets. Seventh grade members traditionally serve as sixth grade orientation guides and frequently members of the council are called on to speak at P.A.C. meetings and serve as teacher helpers.

Hot dogs, hamburgers and soft drinks were served by the student council and P.A.C. at the spring Open House. The school store sold its items outside and council members helped run the Doherty Junior High road race. These and many other events led to a successful evening.

Social events are also a big part of the activities planned throughout the year. Dances were held on Friday nights for eighth and ninth grades and in the afternoons for seventh grades in October, December, February and May. The seventh grades' May dance was at night with the eighth grade. The ninth grade still has one more dance as a part of the end-of-the-year activity. Other social events were the Roll-On-America Skating Night in December, the ice skating party at Phillips Academy in January, Bruin Hill hayride and pizza party in February and "The Outsiders" movie shown in March. Open cafeteria nights were held Friday nights in January, February, March and April. Tag days took place February 14 and 15 and various dress-up days were held such as t-shirt, hat, Halloween dress up, Blue and Gold spirit, Button, D.J.H. cap, Andover t-shirt and shades day. Some of these were part of the Doherty Spirit week which ended with a seventh and eighth grade dance.

The student council treasury has contributed funds to both Doherty Junior High publications. The Yearbook and the D.J.H. Enquirer, the nationally recognized chess team, numerous seventh grade activities including movies, field trips and an ice cream party and other causes which the council deem worthy.

We are very proud of our achievements at Doherty this year. With a good deal of school spirit and student support we have helped make this year a successful one for the entire Doherty community. Next year, with the leadership of the new officers, Aleke Msumba, Matt Corbett, Amy Mencis and Kyle Murphy, the school can continue to improve and the student council can maintain and increase its commitment.

Summer Session To Begin

Phillips Academy's Andover Summer Session will open Thursday, June 28, for 862 students who are coming from all over the United States and abroad. The session is directed by James Bunnell, PA history and social sciences instructor.

What courses do they take? Most popular by far, says Bunnell, is Competence in Reading and Writing, which has eight sections this year, limited to 13 students apiece. Other strong student interests are Observational Astronomy, Human Physiology, Law & Morality, Advanced Experimental Chemistry, Colonial History, Precalculus, Calculus, Creative Writing and various art courses, including Play Production Workshop. He notes that the summer Session faculty is made up of 128 teaching faculty, drawn from the PA faculty and schools across the country, and 40 teaching assistants.

Several specialized programs operate within the Andover Summer Session. The Chamber Music Program, Advanced Computer Workshop, Advanced Studio Art and English as a Second Language for 53 foreign students this summer. Largest of the specialized programs is (MS) Mathematics and Science for Minority Students, directed by Victor Young, Andover physics instructor. (MS) has attracted national attention for its three summer program for talented black and hispanic public high school students seeking careers in math/science fields. On July 11, the related Andover-Dartmouth Urban Teachers Institute directed by Frank Eccles, will bring 30 mathematics teachers from some of the (MS) students' schools for a month-long intensive program in secondary mathematics to prepare them to teach higher level math courses. Both these programs are supported by foundation and corporate funding.

Five features that make REAL Credit the best way for homeowners to borrow.

- 1. We give you substantial credit for owning a home. REAL Credit (Real Estate Asset Line of Credit) is a line of credit that enables qualified homeowners to obtain up to $100,000. And while many other banks only let you borrow up to 75% of the appraised equity value of your home, we allow up to 80%.
- 2. You can use the money for whatever you want. Whether you need money for home improvements, college tuition, a new car, a vacation—virtually anything you can use REAL Credit money from BayBanks. In fact, you can use it for several different purposes at the same time, if you'd like.
- 3. You can use it whenever you want. With REAL Credit, you can start using the money any time you want. And your REAL Credit line is available for your use for ten years. Moreover, at the BayBanks, we won't require you to borrow before you're ready. And you pay interest only on the funds you use, regardless of the amount of your approved credit line.
- 4. You pay lower interest rates. REAL Credit features one of the best rates available—just 1½% over BayBanks Prime Rate, adjusted monthly. For example, if our Prime Rate is 12½%, the corresponding REAL Credit Annual Percentage Rate would be just 14%. In most cases, your rate will be lower than rates on ordinary loans.
- 5. Something better than the rest. The best feature of REAL Credit is the overall package: it's a winning combination you won't find elsewhere. In addition, we offer a monthly statement, special checks for easy access, plus very attractive repayment terms. It all adds up to the very best.

Annapolis

W. Gerard Doyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Doyle, Jr., 11 Westwind Road, Andover, graduated from the United States Naval Academy on Wednesday, May 23, and was commissioned Second Lieutenant in the United States Marine Corps.

Doyle experienced four years of intensive academic, physical and professional training culminating with a bachelor of science degree with a major in Management.

A significant part of the academic program is geared toward the engineering and science fields with 80 percent of the midshipmen electing to major in a technical skill and the remaining 20 percent opting for the humanities. In all, there are 18 majors available.

Professional military training is also a fundamental element in the Naval Academy's education program. This training is conducted at the academy during the academic year and at both shore stations and at sea aboard ships of the Fleet during the summer.

Physical development requirements are met through the physical education program, the intercollegiate program which offers 31 varsity sports and the intramural program which offers 31 sports. All midshipmen are required to participate in a sport either at the varsity or intramural level.

To accomplish the mission of training the 4,500-member brigade of midshipmen, the academy calls on its 550 faculty members, equally divided between civilian professors who provide academic continuity and naval officers who rotate every two years to bring the latest experience from the Fleet.

Concert In Methuen Wednesday

Organist Laurence Berry will be at the Methuen Memorial Music Hall on Wednesday, June 27, at 8:30 p.m.

He has studied organ with Charles Heaton and Clyde Holloway; during 1977 he spent six months as a student assistant to Allan Wicks at Canterbury Cathedral, a sabbatical from his position as organist and choirmaster of Pilgrim Congregational Church, St. Louis. From 1980-82 he served as assistant director of music at Trinity Church, Boston. Berry is organist and choirmaster of the Parish of the Epiphany in Winchester. He has performed extensively as a solo pianist, organist, chamber music player and vocal accompanist.

Berry has selected for his program: Toccata for Organ, Noel Goemanne; Fantasy on "O Paradise," Malcolm Williamson; "Horale Prelude," Wieschen Leichter; der Morgenstern, Dietrich Buxtehude; Sonata No. 4 in B flat Major, Felix Mendelssohn; Carillon, Louis Vierne; Prelude, Fugue and Variation, Cesar Franck; Symphony No. 5, Allegro Vivace, Charles Marie Widor.

In 1909 Searles commissioned the noted architect, Henry Vaughan, to design a hall for the Great Organ. Searles was an excellent musician and at one time gave piano lessons. His love for music, particularly organ music, was a life-long interest. Many churches in the greater Lawrence area were the grateful recipients of church organs from him. He had an organ in his residence, Pine Lodge, and another at his beautiful castle in Great Barrington.

The Music Hall is on Broadway (Route 28) in Methuen, just south of the square.

James Brown will perform on July 4

Desire For Community Service Leads To Big Brother Friendship

By Susan Rand

When John Cox heard about 11-year-old Eli Newbegin he had a feeling the two of them were going to get along. They met at Eli's home, in Lawrence, two years ago, and says Cox, "the match was made."

Cox, 43, has been Eli's "big brother" since a desire to become involved in a community service project lead Cox, who lives at 3 Exeter Way, to the Big Brothers Big Sisters of Greater Lawrence.

"I liked kids so the Big Brother program seemed like a good idea," said Cox, an attorney who works in Boston.

A non-profit organization, Big Brothers Big Sisters works to match young boys and girls with older persons with whom they can spend time. They are matched by the two caseworkers at Big Brothers Big Sisters, explained David Blanchard who matched John and Eli.

Eli is a typical 11 year old. Dressed in a "pac-man" tee-shirt, he fidgeted through the short interview. He said he likes to draw, play games outside and is learning to break-dance, which John said he has yet to see. Eli is a fifth grader at the Hennessey School, but said with a smile that he is excited about getting out for the summer.

A budding artist, the youngster recently won an art contest in school. That prompted Cox to start thinking about Eli's high school education. It is clear the Andover man is concerned about the future of his young friend. He said he was thinking about whether Eli would like to attend the Lawrence vocational school, where he could improve his artistic abilities.

Eli said he enjoys the trips to the Red Sox games with John and the soccer games they play on Saturday afternoons. He said he could remember meeting John, which he recalled as an exciting day.

Not only has it been good for Eli to have a man to look up to, said Cox, but his two children, David, 16, and Laura, 13, have become friends with Eli. His children and wife, Lynne, have been very supportive, said Cox.

Eli's mother has faith in the Big Brothers Big Sisters program too, because Eli's two sisters and brother all have a big brother or big sister, said Cox.

The Big Brothers Big Sisters organization is looking for men and women who would like to be big brothers and big sisters, said Blanchard. In the area there are about 110 big brothers and big sisters, Blanchard said, adding that there is always a long waiting list.

To become a big brother or big sister an

interested person must be at least 18 years old. After an application is filled out and three references are sent there is an interview by Blanchard or Diane Stabile, who interviews the big sisters, and a mandatory orientation session. The organization asks that each big brother or big sister contribute three or four hours a week for one year, said Blanchard. In John and Eli's case the one-year agreements turn into much more than just that.

"Matches like John's that are very successful just seem to perpetuate themselves," said Blanchard.

The Big Brothers Big Sisters of Greater Lawrence Inc., receives financial support from the United Fund, some state funds and raises money on its own, said Blanchard.

They are located at 430 North Canal St., in Lawrence, in the United Fund building.

The mission of the group was aptly summed up by Cox when he explained his friendship with Eli, "the main thing for a little brother is to have a man in his life that cares about him and he can see on a constant basis," said the softspoken attorney. "We have fun."

Andover Performer In Concert

Peter Wright of Andover will be featured with "America's Spirit," the performing arts group of Hyde School, Bath, Maine, in concert at the West Junior High School, Shawsheen Road, Andover, on Friday, June 22, at 8 p.m.

West Parish Church Celebrates

On Pentecost Sunday West Parish Church celebrated the end of another church school year with a special service in which every student participated. "This Little Light of Mine" was sung by all the children as they entered the church, followed by Rev. Graham Ward, as the Call to Worship. George Bilger and Rebecca Morris, sixth graders, had responsibility for lighting of the candles. Following the singing of "For the Beauty of the Earth," the second graders led the Unison Prayer of Invocation, followed by the Lord's Prayer.

After Sandi Regan, the youth choir director, directed the children in singing "Peace Begins," the Sacrament of Baptism was received by Barry A. Bronson, II, Lindsay M. Bronson and Kenneth E. Lowrie, III. Then the church family sang "He's Got the Whole World in His Hands."

The fourth grade class, consisting of Jenni Amirto, Holly Clark, Alyssa Farris, John Gabriel, Rebecca Malakoff, Kim Prentiss and Mark Puglia, each received a copy of the Taizé Bible from Rev. Ward and Mrs. Gail DerAnanian and read two stories from it ("The Tower of Babel" and "The Coming of the Holy Spirit").

Rev. Ward's sermon, "Speaking a Common Language," was rather unique. The congregation was split into five groups with each given the task of chanting in unison with "Gluggle-dee-gloo," "Rubble Blubble," "Zzzzzwitt, Zzzwitt," "Que-durrup, Que-durrup" or "Fst, fst, fst." When every group chanted their assigned message in unison, the ensuing sound dramatically demonstrated a modern Tower of Babel.

After the congregation sang "This Little Light of Mine," the third grade class read a special prayer they had composed. Then the teachers presented special attendance certificates to their individual classes.

In an unusual Moment of Concern, B.J. Witman, retiring church school superintendent, was honored for the dedication and caring attitude she brought to the job during the past two years. The congregation recognized her tremendous efforts with a standing ovation and she was presented with a special certificate of appreciation from the children and a gift from the West Parish Church family.

The money raised by the children during the year on behalf of the Hunger Project, totaling $183, was presented, along with other gifts, and sixth grader Kristen Schmuhl led the congregation in the Unison Prayer of Dedication.

After the congregation sang "Let There be Peace on Earth," the candles were extinguished by sixth graders Sarah Malakoff and Carrie Lumley. Rev. Ward gave the benediction and all the children received a special plant donated by Sarkisian Farms as they filed out. The fifth grade class were ushers for the service.

A cookout, sponsored by Fellowship Care and Christian Education committees, was held on the green opposite the church.

The word ve, in such expressions as "Ye Olde Shoppe," is pronounced like the word the. The letter y in Anglo-Saxon indicated the same th sound as apparent in the current spelling.

Commitment Brings Recognition

By Susan Rand

Joyce and Willard Robinson

A commitment to social issues both individually and as a family brought Willard and Joyce Robinson, 50 Wild Rose Drive, special recognition at the Southern New England conference of the United Methodist Church this weekend at the University of Massachusetts, in Amherst.

For the past 12 years the conference has awarded their Social Justice Award to a person or persons who has helped create a quality of community similar to that envisioned in the old testament, explained Willard Robinson. The award, given at the annual conference, has never been given to a member of the Ballardvale United Church, until now that is.

Both Willard and Joyce have been active in community and Methodist social concerns since they moved to Andover in 1971. Before coming here they were active in Morristown, New Jersey, their hometown. In fact their accomplishments are so numerous that after Methodist Bishop George Bashore told the 350 delegates to the conference about Willard and Joyce he confessed, with a laugh, that he was tired, said Willard.

Willard began his activism in 1960, in New Jersey when he joined the social concerns committee at his local church. A few years later, in 1966, he was a member of the New Jersey Methodist conference board committee that dealt with social issues, a group he stayed with until leaving New Jersey. In Andover he was a member of a committee on racism that trained clergy and lay persons about race relations. He was also a member of the project equality task force of the Southern New England Methodist Conference that monitored use of affirmative action guidelines for conference suppliers.

An employee of AT & T. Bell Labs, Willard has been a member and chairman of their committee on affirmative action. He is also a member of the Greater Lawrence Ecumenical Area Ministry, known as GLEAM. Since 1972 Willard has been a member, and now presides, over the Methodist conference board of church and society. He was also a conference hunger task force member from 1976 to 1980.

Joyce has been very active in the League of Women Voters, both in Andover and in New Jersey. She was president of the Andover league from 1978 to 1980 and is a league region field service consultant for the state. She is also the United Methodist Women's representative to the Massachusetts Religious Coalition for Abortion Rights. Joyce has also been involved with the Andover Task Force on drug and alcohol abuse.

As a family the Robinsons have been hosts for students involved in the A Better Chance program and have spent time tutoring the students. They have also participated in the Greater Lawrence Interfaith Council for a Nuclear Freeze.

As members of the Ballardvale Church they both have undertaken major leadership roles. Willard has been the church lay leader and a delegate to the annual conference. He teaches a weekly adult study class and chaired the committee on outreach as well as the Stewardship committee. Joyce has been a member of the Education Task Force and Outreach Task Force. She helps prepare and serve a monthly luncheon for elderly community residents and has been on the chairman of the stewardship committee. She now serves as head of the membership and evangelism group.

Joyce and Willard have four children. Katherine, the oldest, is an architect in Boston. Next is Karen, a chef in Tucson. Robbie will be a sophomore at Worcester Polytechnic Institute next fall. And Frances will be a senior at Andover High School in September.

A medieval king of France once decreed that the points on one's shoes should be between six and 12 inches—the longer the point, the higher the man's rank.

Standex Earnings Gain

Standex International Corporation (NYSE) reported a 35 percent gain in earnings per share for the nine months ended March 31, 1984. Indicating that "the pace of business is strong and growing throughout the corporation," the diversified company stated that it would "come close to matching 1980's record earnings" in the current fiscal year which ends June 30.

Daniel E. Hogan, chairman and chief executive of Standex, stated that the company had expected to set new earnings records this year, but the Christmas "freeze of the century" has adversely affected their very profitable mail order department business. As a result, Hogan said, the company expects that fiscal 1984 earnings will amount to about $1.45 a share, give or take a few pennies. This would represent a gain of 23 percent from last year's $1.18 a share and would be just slightly below Standex's all-time record of $1.48 a share attained in fiscal 1980, Hogan said.

He added that Standex expects fiscal 1985 earnings to be "in the $1.70-$1.75 a share range," which would set a new record for the company.

In the nine months ended March 31, net income rose 37 percent to $14.4 million or $1.04 a share, up from $10.5 million or 77¢ a share in the same period of last year. Sales for the nine-month period amounted to $282.2, up 5 percent from the prior year's $268.6 million. Last year's nine-month results included $9.4 million of sales from Dresher, Inc., a former division which was spun-off to Standex stockholders as of January 3, 1983. Hogan indicated that "the absence of Dresher's sales tends to obscure Standex's real growth during this period."

In the third fiscal quarter ended March 31, 1984, net income rose 16 percent to $5.2 million or 37¢ a share, up from $4.5 million or 33¢ a share in the same period of last year. Sales for the quarter amounted to $97.5 million, up 6 percent from last year's $91.8 million.

Earnings per share in the latest periods were based on 13.9 million shares outstanding. (In November 1983, Standex had a two-for-one split of its common stock.)

Zoning Board Will Conduct Two Nights Of Hearings

Because of their largest agenda ever, the Board of Appeals has decided to meet for two consecutive nights next month to hear their 15 scheduled public hearings. Both meetings will also be held in a new place, the School Committee Meeting room, upstairs in the school building, Whittier St.

On Thursday, July 5, beginning at 7:30 p.m., the board will hear eight petitions. The remaining seven will be heard the following evening, also beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Andover Savings Bank officials will argue their case for the West Andover branch bank they hope to build on River Road. They are scheduled for the Friday evening meeting. For details on the bank hearing see story elsewhere in this issue.

Officials representing Tyer Industries, Inc., 10 Railroad Ave., will ask the board, at the Thursday night meeting, to grant four variances to Tyer which will be bought by a Delaware company when the board's decision is final.

Perma-Flex, of Delaware, a company that makes rollers for the roller industry will purchase Tyer, said Michael Smethurst, a Tyer official. Smethurst said Tyer will not change its name and will still make rubber rollers. Perma-Flex makes rollers out of eurathane, he said.

Ken Ingber from the Boston law firm of Thompkins, Gavin and Krattenmaker, who will represent Tyer on Thursday evening, said the company needs variances to permit access from the Industrial G district through a Single Residence A district, to permit continued parking for Tyer which is located in a Single Residence A district, a variance for the continued existence of the building which is too close to a side lot line, and a variance because of encroachment of the industrial building into a Single Residence A district.

Ingber said nothing has changed at Tyer. The variances need to be made a matter of public record since the ownership of the company is changing, he said. Tyer existed before the zoning laws were in place and Ingber will ask that the building be "grandfathered" and allowed to exist as a non-conforming structure, as it has since 1936.

On Thursday evening Douglas and Clifford Howe, who run insurance and real estate businesses at 6 Punchard Avenue will request waivers to put an employee parking lot on land at their Punchard Ave. address. The Howes are applying for a special permit and a variance to build the lot in the Single Residence A district.

Douglas Howe told THE TOWNSMAN that since the town offices moved to the former East Junior High building, on Bartlett St., there is less parking near his Punchard Avenue business. He said he hopes to add a lot for 15 cars, which he said would not be a "commercial lot."

Howe also said he hopes to have separate entrance and exit ways to keep the traffic moving smoothly through the lot. There are many young school children there, he said, and the two routes into the lot would be a safety feature.

On Friday evening, a Waltham company will request permission to place a small equipment shed on land at the end of Holmes Road. The land is located in a Single Residence C district. Yankee Celltel Co., needs a special permit to build the building, which would have no more than 600 square feet, on land owned by the WLLH radio station, that Yankee would lease.

Bob Sullivan, who is associated with Yankee, said the shed would house transmission equipment that would allow persons with cordless car telephones to be able to use their equipment in this area.

The ten other hearings are for more routine requests. They are: James and Lucille McKain, 165 Shawsheen Road, will request a special permit to construct living quarters for Lucille McKain's mother at their home at the Thursday meeting. Their land is located in a Single Residence B district.

Deborah Chlebowski, 134 North St., also scheduled for Thursday, will request a variance and or special permit to allow an apartment for the care of relatives in a single family residence. Her land is located in a Single Residence C district.

Michael and Susan Smith, 502 South Main St., will ask the board for a special permit to allow them to park a wheel chair van, used to transport handicapped children to and from school, in front of their home. The Smiths will be heard on Thursday night.

The board will hear the petition of Patricia A. Ripley, New York City, New York, on Thursday evening. She is requesting a variance for a home at 8 Westwind Road, which does not meet the land setbacks to the lot lines.

Richard and Deborah LeGrow, 30 Abbot Bridge Drive, will ask the board on Thursday to give them a variance for their home which does not meet the zoning by-law minimum land setbacks.

Wilson and Louise Barry, 76 Morton St., will request a variance to subdivide their lot into two lots, neither of which, when divided, will have the minimum amount of land needed for a lot in a Single Residence A district. Their petition will also be heard on Thursday.

The board will hear a request on Friday from the estate of Ola G. Coleman, for a special permit to allow a two-family home, at 42 Chestnut St., to remain a two-family dwelling in a Single Residence A district.

Stephen and Frances Cooper, 6 Rocky Hill Road, will request a variance to add a garage, sun room and porch onto their home. If added these rooms will put the home too close to the side lot lines. The Coopers are scheduled for Friday's meeting.

James and Lucille Fiorenza, 277 Lowell St., will request a variance on Friday to add onto their garage which is too close to the lot line.

Alvin M. Herling, 2 Seneca Circle, will request a variance to construct a garage on his property. The construction of the garage would put him too close to the lot line. Herling will be heard on Friday evening.

John J. Sartory, 9 Eastman Road, will request a variance on Friday to add a screened porch which, if constructed, will not meet the lot line requirements.

Bank Seeks Permit

All that stands between Andover Savings Bank officials and a West Andover branch office for the bank is a special permit and variance from the town Zoning Board of Appeals.

Bank personnel crossed their first hurdle when townspeople approved a proposal to allow banks to open branch offices in Andover's Industrial D zone, the town's most restrictive industrial zone, at April's Town Meeting. Despite opposition from members of the Planning Board the article was approved with a late-night vote of 217 for and 95 against.

Andover Bank officials will present their case for the bank, which they hope to locate at 159 River Road, at the appeals meeting on Friday, July 5. The meeting, to be held in the School Committee conference room, on the second floor of the school office building, Whittier St., is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m.

Richard Morris is the owner of the River Road land the bank hopes to build on, said Andover Bank officer Richard MacGowen. He added that the bank has an option on the Morris land that they have held since last fall. That option, which is for 1.3 acres, must be renewed soon, said MacGowen.

MacGowen said the bank doesn't have construction plans yet, adding that if all goes well before the appeals board, building may start this fall. He said they will build a two-story building which will have at least two drive-up tellers.

The traffic from the bank is what turned Planning officials off. Board Chairman Margaret Bradshaw told the town voters, at the April Town Meeting, that the Industrial D zone was created for large industry where traffic would keep moving, not for consumer services.

The bank needs the board to waive the town zoning law that doesn't allow a business to be within 300 feet of an existing dwelling, which the proposed bank would be. They also need a special permit to build in the Industrial D district.

Space Is Offered At Bank

The building was built larger than they needed so there would be room to rent space, said Trumbull C. Curtis, chief executive officer of the Bay Bank—Merrimack Valley, and now they are ready to rent out some of the extra space.

The 33,000 square foot building at 23 Main St. was finished in October of 1982. Curtis said. Now there is 7,000 square feet not being used that will be available, said the bank officer.

"We built it oversized with the intention of renting it out," he said.

Guild Plans Sale

The Andover Artists Guild and the Merrimack Valley Arts League are sponsoring a show and sale July 3 and 4 in the North Parish Church at the Old Center of North Andover. Framed or matted and wrapped paintings and photographs and sculpture will be accepted. A fee per framed work (maximum of three) and for ten matted works will be charged. ## Groundbreaking For New Mall Initiates Park Street Facelift

By Susan Rand

Much of the new building in Andover's downtown is taking place on Main Street but changes are beginning to happen just a street away where by the end of the summer Andover shoppers may have a dozen or so new retail stores to peruse if all goes according to the plans of two developers who own land there.

Robert Finlayson, of Andover, hopes to locate ten to fifteen stores in a colonial-style mall he is building off Park Street.

There were groundbreaking ceremonies yesterday on the site, which once housed a Heartland food market.

And Peter and Joyce Mullett, 8 Paulonette Circle, have plans to demolish the Andover Meat Shoppe, at 28 Park St., and put up a three-story retail and office building at a cost of $1,350,000.

Competition to fill the retail spaces in both developments may fuel both Finlayson and the Mulletts who both said they have had calls from interested renters. Peter Mullett told THE TOWNSMAN he thought the competition would be good for the area.

While Finlayson and the Mulletts are making changes on their land there was also a real estate transaction across the street near the two soon-to-be malls. Charles Shattuck's Shattuck Realty Corp. sold 40-42 Park Street to Shirley Labrie and Diana Lane in May, according to Shattuck and records at the Lawrence Registry of Deeds. Lawrence Shattuck said the sale, on the property he had owned for 20 years, was final on Thursday, May 31.

When THE TOWNSMAN called Andover Clean Craft, a dry cleaning and laundry business located at 42 Park St., a woman who would not identify herself confirmed that she was the owner. She said changes were planned for the property but added that they were "not for publication."

Shattuck told THE TOWNSMAN that he wasn't aware of any new plans the two women have for the site which also includes a building behind the cleaners, known as The Town Grill. Shattuck said Lane was the manager there.

Finlayson's mall will feature an atrium and elevator which will service the two-level structure, said Edward H. Simon, who along with his son, Gary Simon, do business as ABCO Real Estate, 30 Park St. The Simons are the exclusive agents working to fill Finlayson's mall to be called Park Village said the senior Simon. The Mulletts will fill only the first floor of their 13,400 square foot building with retail businesses. The top two levels will be home to "professional types," said Peter Mullett. He added that he and his wife hope to find one major tenant for the complex.

Simon is scouting for a main, or anchor, tenant for Finlayson's mall, the realtor said, adding that he would prefer a multi-store chain that would like to move into Andover. The largest retail space, which features part of the mall's total of 23,000 square feet, is not large enough for a department store, said Simon. He is more interested in a specialty store such as a clothing, furniture or kitchen store, he said.

After Finlayson's anchor tenant is signed, which Simon predicts will take another three or four weeks, he will begin to consider signing with smaller stores. Simon told THE TOWNSMAN he has heard from at least six ice cream stores who would like to be in the mall.

Andover will be proud of this mall," Simon said of the project which will have a wood exterior styled in what he called a "Newport" facade. Peter Mullett echoed Simon's sentiments, saying the townspeople were behind his project.

My wife and I have lived in town all our lives and we love it here. We're excited about the new mall and the changes it will bring to the area. (Continued on Page 59)

Shawsheen Folks Not Thrilled With Town Maintenance Building

By Sue Aucella Deacon

They're not exactly pleased about it, but residents of Shawsheen Village are about to gain a municipal maintenance building in one of their neighborhoods. Construction of the brick building may begin as early as next week, according to the town manager.

Village residents filled the selectmen's conference room Monday night to argue against the proposed maintenance building. The board, however, voted unanimously to site the building off a corner of the upper Shawsheen playing fields, near the railroad bridge that crosses Burnham Road. (DPW crews have been using the town-owned land as a dumping area for snow.)

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony recommended that site as an alternative — one he called "not as satisfactory" — to his original proposed location: the corner of York and Balmoral streets, near the lower playing fields.

Although they opposed plans for the building, some Shawsheen residents said the approved location near the upper fields was at least preferable to the original proposal.

The manager explained that the Municipal Maintenance Department needs work-

Townsmen Wins Four Awards

The Andover Townsman was the recipient of four awards by the Massachusetts Press Association at its annual awards dinner last Friday night at the Red Tavern.

Top award was for best editorial page which featured a picture and editorial concerning a vandalized American Flag in Ballardvale on Veteran's Day last November.

In the Best Feature Writing category, Sue Aucella Deacon was presented an award for her story on Nora Harrison, an Andover teacher who wrote poetry about her students. The story appeared last May.

An award for the Best Front page was presented for the Nov. 3 issue which featured a photo of Andover High's marching band conductor Cathy Snow directing, with the band members reflected in her sunglasses. Overall display, story selection and index were also cited.

Andover's weekly paper was also presented an award for a special section devoted to the dedication of the J. Everett Collins Performing Arts Center last fall.

There were close to 100 entries in the annual contest in various categories.

The association, the oldest state association in the country, is composed of weekly and small daily newspapers throughout the Commonwealth.

At the annual meeting of the association which preceded the awards presentation, Vincent Igo, assistant publisher of the Foxboro Reporter, was elected president to succeed Robert E. Finneran, editor of the TOWNSMAN, who has served as president for the past three years. Finneran will continue as a director of the organization.

The contest was judged by the journalism faculty at Suffolk University.

Playfields Use A Problem In 'A Real Sports Town'

Andover is "a real sports town" where town and school playing fields are in use sunrise to sunset, seven days a week, the selectmen were told this week. The result is a shortage of fields, and over-use verging on abuse of the fields that are available.

The selectmen came up with several responses to that information Monday night, during a discussion with the school department athletic director, the Community Services director, Municipal Maintenance staffers, the town manager, and youth soccer and Little League representatives.

On Town Manager Kenneth Mahony's recommendation, board members voted unanimously to prohibit any new athletic group from using town fields, unless the selectmen are convinced that use would not hurt the fields.

Providing good facilities for school use should be the town's first priority, Mahony said; the second should be following an effective maintenance schedule. Outside groups shouldn't be allowed on the fields if their use would interfere with maintenance, he said.

The selectmen also voted unanimously to ask the Andover Soccer Association to cut back its program by eliminating the spring season, while still playing in the fall. They explained that soccer is especially hard on fields (compared to school sports like baseball and softball), and limiting the sport to one season would help give the fields "a rest."

And they voted to encourage the school athletic director to become "more involved" in scheduling the use of playing fields and setting priorities for their use. That responsibility is currently handled by Community Services.

Acting Athletic Director Richard Bourdelais told the board that "increasing demands" for playing time from both school and non-school groups have created the need to "monitor use" of the fields more carefully. Many fields, he said, are busy sunrise to sunset, seven days a week.

Twelve school teams shared four available fields last year, he said, predicting that that situation might continue for another one or two years.

The junior high and high school fields are the busiest, Bourdelais said, and most in need of a spring-time "recuperation period." Those fields are used by physical education classes, interscholastic teams, and non-school leagues.

DCS Director Joan Pearson told the selectmen the demand for more playing fields in Andover is most likely here to stay. "Andover is a real sports town," she said. "It's not a passing phase — the need isn't diminishing."

This spring, annual town meeting appropriated $30,000 to begin building four playing fields at the old landfill site on Chandler Road (Article 25). But finding more funds for fields in the age of Proposition 2½ will be difficult, the selectmen indicated.

They recommended that a citizens "advocacy group" take shape, with DCS and the school athletic department represented. Mahony said such a group should get busy now to prepare proposals for 1985's annual town meeting.

One alternative that the selectmen deemed worth looking into was suggested by Michael LeBreck of Andover Little League. LeBreck said the town should donate land to the league, then let the league raise funds to build its own field.

LeBreck also criticized maintenance of town ball fields used by Little League. He said there has been "no maintenance at all" this spring, and told the board unmowed grass made playing difficult and unsafe.

Playfields

He said he was concerned about rising user fees as well: fees were increased from $1 to $2 per use this year.

Mahony disagreed on the maintenance point, saying, "Our maintenance of the fields is really pretty good." Forestry Superintendent James Bamford of Municipal Maintenance said each field is mowed once every week to ten days (the exception was during the recent rainy spell.)

The manager also maintained that the user fees are reasonable, and generate less than $6,000 per year in revenues for the town. Pearson said that before this year, field user fees had not been increased since 1981.

Continuing Dilemma

Use and condition of Andover's playfields has reared its head once again.

Groups of citizens appeared before the selectmen this week expressing concern about the availability of fields, as well as conditions in some cases, as they continue to promote youth athletic leagues.

It is not the first time such problems have been faced by the town.

With the increasing interest in organized youth athletics, it is evident the problem will continue to be with the town, probably without any adequate, totally acceptable resolve.

Agreeably, Andover's playfields get adequate use, what with soccer, little league baseball, junior league football and playground activities in the course of the spring, summer and fall.

In some cases, some fields may be overused, and some sports activity may overtax the playing surface more than others.

But, with a little planning and some give and take on the part of the various youth league sponsors, it would seem the problem is a resolvable one.

Requesting the soccer league to drop its spring season seems a bit unreasonable. After all, how can an organization which provides a recreational activity for up to 1,500 Andover youngsters be asked to cancel a portion of its program. The sport itself admittedly is difficult on fields. But, the soccer association should be able to adjust schedules in order to permit the town to work on fields and prepare them for upcoming seasons, even if it means dropping that location for a season or two.

Voluntary help with establishing and maintaining fields has been suggested and is under consideration by the board and the town manager.

The suggestion that an advocacy group be formed, with the school department included, seems a wise one, and a proposal which could go a long way toward resolving problems.

Many of the playfields used by the youth groups are also dedicated to interscholastic sports activities or other school use, thus the school administration should have some say in their scheduling and application.

But, they also are public fields created and developed through municipal funds and as such should be available for use by town groups at no interference to the school program.

There are a couple of perplexing things about the playfield discussion of this past Monday night.

One involves the increase in user fees. This method of underwriting town services was introduced several years ago, and enhanced with the problems created by Proposition 2½. While parents seldom, if ever, renege on contributing to programs that will benefit their offspring, there does come a time when such user fee application becomes burdensome.

In recent years there have been consistent increases in the number of municipal services to which user fees are applied. At the same time taxes have increased, which seems to bring about some inconsistency.

The other item deals with field maintenance. Some complaints were registered Monday night on the condition of some playfields. The town administration felt differently, but from reports and observations, the complainants were justified in their remarks with regard to some of the fields.

Overall, maintenance of town fields should be an optimum through the creation a year ago of the new department which was to oversee not only parks and playgrounds, but vehicle maintenance and highways.

The department was formed with the express purpose of increased efficiency and economy. If such is the case, the fields should be in properly maintained condition. Care of the fields and preparing them for athletic contests should be an easy matter to schedule, in view of the intended disbursement of personnel where most needed under the combined department.

And, while the playfield matter may be one of a continuing dilemma, it would seem that amicable solutions can be reached in order to maintain the well-conducted, youth sports programs in Andover.

Catch The Cobra Spirit

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

In this year of Olympic spirit, as nations prepare to present their chosen athletes to the world in that spectacular arena of athletic achievement, the Summer Games, it is equally exciting to discover those special feelings of promise and hope right here in our own town.

Recently, a soccer team of 11-year-old girls returned home from a trip to western Massachusetts where they not only defeated last year's state champions of Framingham 3-0, but also walked away with the opportunity to represent our state in the eastern United States Regional Tournament in Niagara Falls, N.Y., on June 29.

Indeed, we should be very proud of this team and its accomplishments. Put together only last year as part of the Andover Soccer Association, these girls, under the masterful guidance and coaching of Dennis Doran and his two assistants, Dick Hanson and Jay Saunders, have developed into a solid, well-disciplined team. Outscoring their season opponents 52-7 and compiling an 11-1 record in their division, the Cobras finished second overall, missing first place by a slim three goals. In their final game they were able to avenge their only loss by defeating a tough Georgetown team which eventually took first place in the Essex County League.

Unfortunately, this inspiring success story may come to an abrupt and tearful ending if the team is unable to secure funds for the trip to New York on the 29th. With the honor of representing our state hanging in the balance, not to mention an outside chance of making the finals in Nebraska later this summer, it certainly would be a shame if our girls were denied this special opportunity.

Yes, it definitely is the year for Olympic spirit, and athletes like our girls on the Cobras offer all of us a rare opportunity to be a part of that spirit. Let's catch some of that spirit and show our appreciation for a season well done. Let's support the Andover Cobras in their finest hour.

Those interested in helping the Cobras go to Niagara Falls may do so by making contributions to the Andover Cobras Fund, care of the Andover Savings Bank, P.O. Box 150, Andover, MA 01810.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — June 1909

Wilbur and Orville Wright of Dayton, O., the aeroplane inventors, were today presented with gold medals awarded them by the Aero Club of America, in the East Room of the White House. President Taft made a short speech.

The advertised sale of the Frye Village Mill calls attention to what is likely to be another change for that section of the town. The chances are that it will not be allowed very much longer to stand as simply a landmark. Whatever change may come, it is to be wished that the typical little New England village, such as this was once the centre of, may again be developed in this section.

Many Andover people attended the Ringling Brothers Circus, held in Lawrence Wednesday. As a rule, the reports are to the effect that it is the best circus ever seen.

A new sidewalk is being built from the corner of Park Street to Post Office Avenue.

John Irvine, for years a flax-dresser in the Smith and Dove mills, is to sail with his family per S.S. Saxonia for the old home Killvleigh, Ireland. Their household effects are to be sold at the residence on Ridge street tomorrow afternoon.

Rev. Daniel McCarthy, O.S.A., the first graduate of St. Augustine's Parochial School to attain the priesthood, will give out the diplomas to this year's graduates at the 10:30 Mass Sunday morning when he will celebrate his first solemn high Mass. After his graduation from St. Augustine's, Father McCarthy attended Phillips Academy prior to going to Staten Island.

Morris Nassau of Claremont, N.H. has taken out a five-year lease on the Bradlee mills in Ballardvale for the purpose of running a shoddy mill. It is expected that 50 men will be employed. ### A fine Performance

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

The sixth graders at the Sanborn School staged a fine performance of the operetta, "H.M.S. Pinafore." Much credit goes to the teachers, the janitors and the parents who did so much to help the children to stage this fine show.

Henry C. Sanborn would have been delighted to see this fine production in "his" school.

Let's have more in the coming school year. Let's start in the early fall.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

Would you believe the second trip to "42nd Street" is almost full? It is, so if you want to go, you'd better get down to the senior center and get your tickets right now. The cost, $36 for orchestra seats and round trip transportation.

The July Fourth party at Crane's Beach is also filling fast. There will be a concert, picnic and fireworks at this lovely site. Buses leave Andover at 4 p.m. and will cost you $11 for the evening.

Have you called the center to tell them what you plan to bring to the Pot Luck luncheon June 27? You should do it now, you know, so they can plan a balanced menu—not all salads or all casseroles or all desserts. If you want to come but can't bring anything, you need to stop by the center and pay your $3. That's what it costs if you do not bring something and it must be paid in advance.

Class registration is going full tilt. Did you know there is a new course, "Making Cabbage Patch Dolls"? The $20 fee includes all materials necessary to complete the doll and you must have a granddaughter or niece or someone who has been pining for one.

Would you enjoy a roast beef dinner on Thursday, July 12? Served in a lovely place with delightful entertainment? It can all be yours if you sign up for the "Summer's Day Out." The day, including transportation, of course, is only $20. Buses leave Andover at 10:30 a.m. and return at 4:30 p.m. from the Danversport Yacht Club. Try it! You'll like it!

Friday, June 22, is the last day of the Hot Lunch Program. It will resume July 9.

Every Friday afternoon from 1:45 p.m. to 4 p.m. you can play Bingo at the center. You'll meet your old friends and make new ones in air conditioned comfort.

The next mini clinic will be held Tuesday, June 26, at Frye Circle. You must make an appointment for this free service and you may do so by calling the Andover Health Department.

Every Wednesday from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. there is a regular blood pressure clinic for which no appointment is necessary.

The first adhesive postage stamps were used in 1847. Before this time, postmasters wrote "Paid" on envelopes.

Road Race

Once again the Essex County Sheriff's department and the Boston Beer Striders are getting together to sponsor the 2nd Annual Sheriff Charles Reardon's Race to Arrest Leukemia on Sunday, Sept. 9.

The race, begun last year by Sheriff Reardon to benefit the late Kathy Griffin, a young Beverly mother who died from leukemia, will follow a 10-kilometer route through Salem and Beverly.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Mayan Indians become pawns in Central American unrestBy Jack Anderson and Joseph Spear

WASHINGTON — For most Americans, the biggest worry about the unrest in Central America is whether U.S. troops will get involved. But for the unfortunate people on the scene, such fears are a luxury. They are already hopelessly involved in the contests between extremists of the left and the right, and there is no way they can escape.

Take Guatemala, for example. A civil war has been raging off and on in that nation for three decades; thousands of refugees have fled the country. Some 46,000 are the descendants of the Mayan Indians who once ruled Mexico and Guatemala.

The right-wing government of Guatemala considers the Mayans dangerous guerrillas — or at least supporters of anti-government guerrillas — and has burned their villages and destroyed their crops. The Mayans have fled across the border into the wilderness of southern Mexico.

In Mexico, the Mayan refugees were given help by other Mayan peasants. They also thought they had the protection of the Mexican government. They were wrong. On April 13, Guatemalan forces crossed the border and attacked a Mayan refugee camp at El Chupadero. Six refugees were killed.

The Mexican government protested the raid, but Mexico doesn't have the military strength to prevent such attacks. So Mexican authorities decided that the Mayan refugees would have to be moved farther north. The first refugees — some 95 families — were moved on May 31. Currently, 40 to 45 families are being moved every three days.

American human rights workers think the Mexican government is over reacting to the Guatemalan threat. They say that only a few refugee camps are close enough to the Guatemalan border to be in danger. And they are afraid that hundreds of the refugees will die in the forced march through the trackless wilderness.

Ed Fisher, executive director of a human rights organization called Peace for Guatemala, thinks the Mexican government may have ulterior motives in its insistence that the refugees be moved farther inland. He pointed out to our associate John Dillon that Mexican officials in the interior have said they need laborers. Fisher thinks the Mexicans may just want to use the refugees as a cheap source of labor.

There are others who agree with Fisher, including the Catholic church. Five Mexican bishops have protested the government's plan to resettle the Guatemalan refugees.

As for the refugees, their feelings were expressed in a letter one wrote to Mexican President Miguel de la Madrid. "Our will and our thinking," the refugee wrote, "is to return to Guatemala some day." But the farther they are forced into Mexico, the slimmer their chances are of ever returning home.

Footnote: According to the latest reports from Mexico, about 2,500 of the Guatemalan refugees are resisting the forced move and have fled to a farm owned by the Catholic diocese in the region. It is uncertain whether the Mexican government will allow them to stay.

HEALTH HEARINGS. Most American children are safe from killer childhood diseases. They are protected by inexpensive vaccines against measles, tetanus, whooping cough, polio, diphtheria and tuberculosis.

But an appalling 90 percent of the children around the world don't receive the necessary protection. Every year, 5 million die and another 5 million are maimed — just because they were never inoculated.

The House Select Committee on Hunger will hold hearings on this problem later this month. But the committee won't be going to India or Bangladesh to find the dying children. It will begin its investigation in the state of Mississippi.

The committee's preliminary studies show that thousands of men, women and children in Mississippi are deprived of adequate food and health care. Many were tenant farmers who have been displaced by machines and turned loose into a world for which they were not prepared.

The infant mortality rate in Mississippi, the committee's findings show, is double the rate for the entire United States.

WAITING IN THE WINGS: Federal Reserve Board Chairman Paul Volcker was reappointed last summer by President Reagan. The Republicans now regret that decision, and Volcker is expected to quit shortly after the Inauguration Day, no matter who is president.

Who will replace him? Our sources think Vice Chairman Preston Martin is the best bet — assuming Reagan wins a second term. Martin has close ties to the White House. When he was appointed in 1982, many Fed watchers viewed him as Volcker's heir apparent.

But Martin is a diplomat and he knew when to keep his mouth shut. He was thus regarded by the White House as a loyal Volcker man and lost his chance to be given the top job.

But Martin has realized his mistake, say our sources, and has begun disagreeing publicly with Volcker. And he is set to step into his boss's shoes if Ronald Reagan wins a second term.

Place First

The Spotlighters of Lynfield's production of "He who Says Yes and He who Says No" by Bertolt Brecht, written in the style of a traditional Japanese Noh play, was chosen the winner of the New England Theatre Conference Drama Festival at Brandeis University on Memorial Day Weekend.

The Spotlighters received an award for the cast's makeup and were nominated for awards for lighting and scenic design. Kay Foltz of Andover was music director and Sigrid Perkins of North Reading was assistant to the director.

The fear that he might conceal a joke was said to be one reason that Benjamin Franklin was not entrusted to write the Declaration of Independence.

Kitchen Design

David A. Clement, designer

It may seem that designing a kitchen is the easiest part of remodeling. It is not always true. While we all know about kitchens from working and eating in them, many aspects must be considered to create one that is convenient, comfortable and attractive. The tendency of the amateur is to replace appliances without relocating them. However, an awkward traffic pattern may be as much of a problem as outmoded equipment. Some do-it-yourself designers, who have attempted major changes, have wound up with oven and dishwasher doors that open into each other. A professional kitchen designer is a good investment, whether one is employed for a small job or one that involves many tradesmen and other contractors.

When you deal with the professionals at WINDSOR KITCHENS, you get only the best quality merchandise and the professional knowledge in designing and creating magnificent kitchens in the time and to up date your kitchen. We are the people to help you do it. We feature European styles from sleek, European to grand traditional or colonial. We give you a room that fits your tastes and your budget. ## Andover Girls Soccer To Represent State

By She Livermore

Andover girls soccer is making its presence felt these days. In April three Andover girls travelled to Europe as part of an Under 19 Eastern Massachusetts All Star Team to compete against soccer teams in Belgium and Germany.

On the June 9 weekend, an Andover U-12 girls team, The Cobras, was selected by Essex County to represent their age division in the Massachusetts Regional Tournament of Champions in Westfield. The winners of each age division (boys and girls) would go on to represent the state in the Eastern United States Regionals the weekend of June 30 in Niagara Falls.

In the semi-final round played Saturday, in the extreme heat, the Cobras had to get by a strong contingent from Concord. The Andover girls won a 3-1 victory with goals by Jodi Saunders, who kicked in two of her team's total, and Elizabeth Shea; Kathy Doran and Erin Lynch provided the assists.

In the championship round on Sunday, Andover had to beat Framingham, last year's state champions. Sanders scored a hat trick with Susan Goldstein, Suzanne Gianelly, Lynch and Doran assisting. Golkeeper Nicole Ricci recorded a shut out, which included blocking a direct kick just outside the penalty area and making a diving save of a shot right in front of the net. This 3-0 victory earned the Cobras the championship title and the opportunity to travel to Niagara Falls.

Currently the team members are thinking of innovative ways they can raise more than $3,000 to cover the cost of the trip, including bake sales, car washes, etc. It is not going to be easy, but to quote Dennis Doran, coach of the championship team, "this is the chance of a life time for these girls. It is also the first time a team from Andover has earned the opportunity to compete in the Eastern United States Regionals. Apart from anything else, Andover has won the honor of representing the State of Massachusetts so we must give it our best effort."

Doherty Team Second

By Karen Mitchell and Nancy Lee

The 1983-84 Doherty Junior High freshmen softball team had a outstanding season finishing with a record of eight wins, four losses and placing second in the Merrimack Valley Conference. Hitting powerful home runs throughout the season were co-captain Amy Johnson, co-captain Nancy Lee, Karen Mitchell, Katie Walsh, Candice Kirkiles and Katie Hollenbeck. The final game of the season, against West Junior High on May 24, proved to be the most exciting. Outstanding offense was contributed by Lee and Mitchell, both hitting home runs and Johnson who hit 4-for-5 at bat.

Contributing to the unbelievable defense were Hollenbeck, Brian Fater, Amy Ponti, Lisa Fossella and Kirkiles. The remarkable pitcher-catcher combination of Walsh and Melissa Harley greatly contributed to the victory.

End-of-the-year awards were: most improved player, Melissa Harley; most valuable players, Katie Walsh and Nancy Lee; the coaches award, Amy Johnson.

The team outdid themselves and hopes to carry on the Doherty pride next year led by newly elected co-captains Katie Hollenbeck and Lisa Fossella.

Boys Capture New England Title

Track Boosters To Meet

Congratulations are in order for Coach Dick Collins and his 1984 track and field squad. It is one thing to be best in the valley, another to be best in the state, but to be best in all of New England is a feat worth outstanding recognition. That is exactly what the Andover boys' track team did at the New England championships at Boston College on Saturday, June 9, following an undefeated season. Andover was represented by the following athletes: Peter Comeau, who took first in the 300 meter low hurdles, setting a new school record at 38.6; Zack Apgar, who set a new school record in the long jump with a distance of 22' 10" for a second place; Ian Dowe, with a fourth place in the 100 meters and fifth in shot put; Larry Cuddy, who placed fifth in the 400 meters, and the 4 by 110 relay team of Apgar, Comeau, Dave Casanave and Dowe, which was unfortunately disqualified in their attempt to score points. The final score for the first three finishers was Andover 26, Beverly 22 and Bishop Henduchen of Rhode Island 21.

The girls' team was represented by Dolyne Divino, who added another school record to her list of accomplishments, finishing second in the 2 mile in 11:16.4; and Karen Hodgkinson, placing fourth in the shot put.

End-of-the-season track awards were presented at the banquet. The Hal Wennick Award, given to the outstanding indoor outdoor track performer, went to Peter Comeau. The Roger Whitcomb Award for an outstanding Spring Track season went to Ian Dowe. Marianne Nuzzo was given the J.E. Collins Award for an outstanding Spring Track season. Zack Apgar was presented the Paul MacInnis Award for an outstanding indoor track season. The Robert Vogt Award for outstanding attitude was given to Rick Dow and Larry Cuddy. Laurie Bourdelais received the Jon Langdell Award, also for outstanding attitude.

Captains elected for the 1984-85 season were Pam Nicastro, Beth Tracy and Delyra Weisman, for the girls, and John Barry, Dave Casanave, Keith Driscoll and Andy Thomson, for the boys.

The Track Boosters met Tuesday, June 12, to discuss the end-of-season business. It was agreed that a sizeable amount of the monies realized through membership, concessions and the sale of Macbucks be used to recognize each athlete's contribution to an outstanding season for both the boys and girls teams. Coach Dick Collins emphasized that most important was the fact that "the boys went through the whole season and won everything, the girls, almost everything."

President Doug Tracy announced a "Coaches Open" golf tournament on June 24. Anyone interested in playing should contact Doug. The next meeting will be June 21 at the high school.

Grams, Vickers Take Top Honors

Senior Co-Captains Mark Grams and Billy Vickers walked away with the top awards at this year's Andover High School Golden Warrior Baseball Cookout recently.

Grams, the versatile pitcher-shortstop, sported an outstanding .412 regular season batting average to top all Golden Warrior hitters and earn the top hitter trophy while Vickers was awarded the top pitcher trophy. The lanky lefthander compiled a 6-3 overall record with an impressive 1.24 ERA.

Rob Wilson was awarded the Peter Aumais Trophy for dedication, desire and devotion. John Duffy also received a special award for sportsmanship.

Grams, Vickers and Wilson were also presented certificates for their election to this year's MVC All-Star team with Grams and Vickers selected All Merrimack Valley.

Grams and Vickers, who were also named co-MVPs of the Lawrence Invitational Tournament which Andover won, also hit over .300 for their three years at Andover High School and will receive gold-plated bats to commemorate this feat.

Letters were presented to: Seniors, Grams, Vickers and Wilson (three years), Duffy, John Leahy, Mike Gibson, Dave Galt, Jim Denoncourt, Sean Burns and Shaun Murphy; Juniors, Bill Weidman, Shane Smith and Bob Charland; Sophomores, Leo Gravell and John Nuzzo.

Junior varsity awards were also presented. John Nuzzo and Rob Carpentier were chosen as the team's co-MVPs. Nuzzo, who started the season with the jayvees before becoming a permanent fixture on the varsity, compiled a .344 batting average with five extra base hits and 11 RBIs, while Carpentier led the junior Warriors in almost every pitching statistic possible. He finished the season with an outstanding 6-0 record (one varsity victory) three shutouts and an untouchable 0.78 ERA. Carpentier also chipped in with a .306 batting average. The Golden Warrior ace was also awarded the top pitcher trophy.

Kevin Rourke was awarded the top hitter trophy. He collected a team-high 18 hits to go with his .383 batting average. Leo Gravell and Mike Dimeo received game balls for hitting over .400 in limited service.

Special tenth player awards were voted by the team went to Rob Ditroia, Dave Schwedler and Peter Quintal.

The varsity Golden Warriors ended their season with an overall 11-3 mark, saving their best for last, to capture the Lawrence Invitational Tournament while the junior varsity finished with a 12-4 record.

National League Minors

By Andy Shea

As the six teams race toward the finish line, the Giants are extending their lead and appear to be the team to beat.

The Giants had a super week, winning all three games and extending their record to eight wins and four losses. Stars of the week were Tim Sullivan, Jonathan Hines and James Hanning.

The second-place Pirates split two games and stand at six wins, five losses. Weekly stars were Andrew Novelline, Kevin Lane and Chuck Jessico.

After dropping two or three tilts, the Phillies sit a close third with an even record after 12 contests. Key players were Chris Brouady, John Niemyski and Doug Batchelder.

In fourth place, the Dodgers record is five wins, five losses and a tie. Weekly kudos to Kevin Dreese, the Haarmann brothers and the Elliot brothers.

The Braves hold down fifth place with a five win record in 12 tries. Stars of the week were Keith Lyons, Repp Hayes and the O'Neil brothers.

In sixth place are the hard-luck Cardinals with three wins, six losses and a tie. With five games to play the Cards can be a factor again. Kudos to Ken Gable, Chris Zappala and Stephen Neal.

Bad Innings Hurt Andover Gold

By Rick Harrison

The Andover Gold Babe Ruth baseball team hasn't experienced many bad stretches in recent years, but the locals struggled last week as they dropped two of three games in Greater Lawrence League action.

One bad inning killed Gold both times. South Lawrence West netting five runs in the third enroute to an 8-3 victory at Mt. Vernon Park and North Andover erasing a 5-1 deficit with five unearned runs in the fifth to chalk up a 6-5 triumph over frustrated AG at Grogan's Field.

Gold did manage an 8-5 victory over intra-town rival Andover Blue, leaving the top four teams in the league within one game of each other in the early-season standings.

South Lawrence West entered this week at 4-2. Gold and North Andover were 3-2 and Blue 3-3.

SLW, 8-3

Righthander Chris Colsia, who had cruised to eight straight victories this spring (7-0 with Doherty freshmen and shutout winner over Blue in Ruth opener), as due for an off day.

SLW came up with 10 hits, bunching six of them in the five-run third, and West hurler Bill Blackwell became stronger as the game progressed. Gold jumped all over him in the top of the first, collecting its three runs and four of its six safeties.

Mark Tucker rapped a one-out single, took second on a passed ball and scored on Colsia's single. Colsia stole second and eventually crossed on an error, while Mike Lane walked and raced home on Earl Abdo's two-out single to centerfield.

Chris Concemi followed with another single, but Blackwell settled down and allowed only four baserunners the rest of the way.

Tucker walked in the second inning. Kurt Burzlaff was hit by a pitch and promptly stole second base in the fourth. Larry Aiello singled in the sixth but was doubled up, and 13-year-old Tom Murray lofted an opposite-field double to right in the seventh.

Blackwell led the bottom of the first with a long homerun over the rightfield fence, cutting the SLW deficit to 3-1.

West batted around in the third, the key hits an RBI double by Dan Bergeron, a two-run single by Dan Cardillo and RBI safeties from Bill Buckley and Kevin Drouin.

SLW added an unearned run in the fourth when Bob St. Louis singled and scored on an error and the final tally came in the sixth as Cardillo tripled home Bergeron (single) after two were out.

Abdo played well defensively in the infield, while Lafond was again strong at catcher as he gunned down a would-be basestealer.

Blackwell, St. Louis, Bergeron and Cardillo went 2-for-4 for West.

Andover Gold, 8-5

Gold spotted Andover Blue a 3-0 first inning lead at Phillips Academy and trailed 4-1 before exploding for five runs in the top of the fourth to take the upper hand for good.

Righthander Larry Aiello (1-0) was the winning pitcher in his first start, permitting six hits while walking three and whiffing four.

Blue pitcher Glenn Allard wasn't hit particularly hard, but he did allow 10 singles.

Gold threatened in the top of the first after singles by Mark Tucker and Mike Lane, but the eventual winners failed to capitalize at this time. Blue retaliated with three runs in the home half of the inning as Jeff Smith walked, Allard walked, Cam Deery belted a long two-run double and moved to third on a throwing error and Steve Surette dropped a suicide squeeze bunt to plat Deery.

Walks to Earl Abdo and Kurt Burzlaff in the Gold second were wasted, but in the third Chris Colsia reached on a fielder's choice, stole second and raced home on Mike Lane's baserun.

Blue got that run back in the bottom of the third, however, on singles by Allard and Deery.

Gold loaded the bases with no one out in the fourth, Chris Nelson reaching on an error, Burzlaff slapping a single and Scott Wallace beating out a bunt single. Rick Lafond followed with a two-run single, Colsia later added an RBI single and Mike Lane lashed another two-run single to make it 6-4. Bill O'Brien walked and scored on Brian Gibson's long double in the Blue fourth, but Gold collected a pair of insurance runs in the fifth and sixth frames to ice the game.

In the fifth Chris Concemi walked, stole second and scored on Lafond's two-out single and in the sixth Colsia singled, stole second, took third on a passed ball and came home on Aiello's fielder's choice grounder.

Mike Lane finished the contest 3-for-3 to pace Gold while Colsia had two hits and scored three runs. Lafond was 2-for-4 as well.

Cam Deery sparked Blue with a perfect 3-for-3 effort, including two doubles, and Tom Tormey added a sharp single down the leftfield line.

Lafond made a fine running catch to retire Gibson in the seventh, while Scott Wallace handled six chances flawlessly. It second base for gold. Deery played a solid defensive game at third base for Blue.

North Andover, 6-5

Fourteen-year-old lefthander Mike Lane pitched well enough to win this game 5-0, but his teammates committed four costly errors behind him to hand North Andover six unearned runs and the victory.

Lane permitted just six hits, striking out eight and walking only three, but on this particular night it wasn't quite good enough.

Gold raced to a 5-1 lead in the top of the third, after NA had nibbled ahead 1-0 with a tainted run in the bottom of the second.

Scott Wallace drew a none-out walk against North Andover starting pitcher P.J. McCabe in the third. Rick Lafond singled and Mark Tucker walked. Chris Colsia lashed a two-strike single to centerfield, rescuing two runs, and another free pass to Chris Concemi re-loaded the bases for Larry Aiello who homered a three-run triple to the fence in leftfield.

North Andover came back with a five-run outburst of its own in the fifth, doing all the damage after two were out. Three singles and a walk were interspersed with three errors to produce the runs.

Gold had a final opportunity in the sixth, loading the bases against southpaw reliever Sam Conte on an error and walks to Aiello and Scott Wallace. Conte ran the count for 3-1 on the next batter, leaving Gold one pitch away from tying the game, but the NA lefty battled back to register a clutch strikeout and preserve the victory.

Lane drilled a two-out singl to centerfield in the seventh, but again Conte bore down to end the game on a pop-up to the mound.

Lafond at catcher, Aiello at first base and Wallace at second were again defensive standouts.

Andover Blue Stands 3-3

Andover Blue of the Greater Lawrence Babe Ruth League won two and lost one game during first week action.

After an opening day 3-0 loss to Andover Gold, the Blue squad proceeded to take a 6-3 contest from South Lawrence West and a 6-5 darkness shortened victory over South Lawrence East.

Glenn Allard pitched seven innings of three hit, seven strike-out ball in the win over South Lawrence West. Cam Deery and Jeff Smith had two RBIs each to pace the Blue attack. Steve Surette had three hits and scored twice while Brian Gibson had two hits.

The Blue continued their winning ways on Wednesday, June 6, against South Lawrence East. Dave Curtis started on the mound and was relieved by Jeff Smith who went five innings, giving up no hits and striking out four. The Blue bats came alive in this game as Deery continued to hammer the ball with three hits in four trips, including two doubles and an RBI. First baseman Gibson continued his hot start with two hits and three RBIs.

Catcher Bill O'Brien went 2-for-3 with an RBI to further the Blue cause. Pete Barry, Tom Tormey and Smith chipped in with timely hitting to further fuel the Blue attack.

Andover Blue's strong 13-year-old contingent saw their first real action of the season and played well. Pat Breen moved in at shortstop, Chris McNally in centerfield, Matt Pothier at second base, John Russell in rightfield and Steve Howes at shortstop.

Week two of Greater Lawrence Babe Ruth action saw Andover Blue's record drop to 3-3 as they beat South Lawrence East 5-0 and lost to North Andover 7-2 and Andover Gold, in a seesaw contest, 8-5.

Pat Breen and Tom Tormey combined for a one-hitter as Andover Blue bested South Lawrence East 5-0 at Phillips Academy on June 12. Brent went the first four innings, giving up one hit, walking two and striking out two. Tormey pitched the final three innings, giving up no hits and striking out five.

The Blues scored two runs in the bottom of the first inning. Steve Surette reached on an error, moved along on a sharp single to left by Glenn Allard. A balk and Brian Gibson double to right accounted for the initial runs.

The Blues pushed across another run in the second on a SLE error, a Bill O'Brien single and a passed ball.

The final two runs came in the bottom of the sixth. Allard's second hit of the game, followed by an SLE error and a Jeff Smith sacrifice fly to right brought home the fourth run of the game. Brian Gibson banged a single to right and later came home on an error.

The next night the Andover Blue squad an into a strong North Andover nine at North Andover's Grogan's Field.

Allard, Cam Deery and Jeff Smith had the lone hits. Surette stayed on the mound but early inning fielding problems and North Andover's aggressive play on the base paths kept the Blue from becoming a factor in this game.

Arch-rivals Andover Blue and Andover Gold met at Phillips Academy on Thursday, June 14.

Allard started on the mound for the Blue and Larry Aiello for the Gold as Gold prevailed 8-5.

The Blue erupted for three runs in the bottom of the first. Smith and Allard walked and came home on a booming double by Deery. Surette squeezed in Deery to account for the scoring.

Both teams picked up single runs in the third.

The roof caved in in the fourth inning for the Blue as the Gold scored five runs. A Rick Lafond two-run single and a Mike Lane two-run single accounted for most of the amage.

Gold continued to build the lead with singles in the fifth and sixth innings.

Gibson, Allard, Deery and Tormey provided the Blue with their offensive muscle while the Gold got timely hitting throughout the lineup.

American Little League Majors

Orioles 5 - Indians 4

The Indians out hit the Orioles 7-3, but the favored Orioles won the game 5-4. The Orioles scored one run in each of the first three innings with Mike D'Angelo, Paul Durant and Peter Arthur all crossing the plate as a result of passed balls. The Indians countered with two runs when Todd Roycroft singled home Bryan Smith who had singled Mike LeBreck doubled and later scored the second run in the fifth.

Chip Stella delivered the key Oriole blow with a line double in the bottom half of the fifth, scoring Brett Hammond who reached after forcing D'Angelo, who had singled. Stella later scored the fifth Oriole run.

The Indians threatened and nearly pulled off an upset win in the sixth. Chris Shea and Tom Torrisi drew walks, Matt Pothier reached on a fielders choice as Dave Carriere made a nice play retiring Forrest at second. Smith singled scoring Shea and LeBreck singled bringing home Smith. Roycroft hit a sharp grounder to Hammond at short, who turned a beautiful, unassisted, game-ending double play.

In addition to the Hammond and Carriere fielding gems, Oriole first-baseman Arthur made a great stab of a Smith line drive in the third.

LeBreck went the route for the Indians striking out eight with Hammond and Shawn Garrity shared pitching duties for the Orioles. Hammond (win) struck out seven and Garrity gained the save.

Orioles 9 - Mets 6

HOT-WATER SPAS — ADD (BATH TUB-SPAS)

National Major Little League

By Jim Arnold

The second half of the National Major League schedule has opened with some surprises. After sharing the first-half title with the Pirates, the Mets and Braves have fallen on tougher times.

The Pirates, after a brief slump, are back on track with a 3-2 ledger, but the Cubs and Cards, two clubs that weathered rocky first halves, have crept to within striking distance of the powerful Buccaneers.

Pirates 3 - Cardinals 2

Curt Solomon's dramatic base hit in the bottom of the sixth broke up Cardinal Pat Finn's no-hit bid in one of the finest played games this year.

Solomon's safety drove in the winning run, thus preventing the Cards from taking over first place.

Each squad showcased its defensive prowess, but Brian Rittershaus got things started in the third with a booming triple which chase both Redbird runs home. But Pirate hurlers Matt Adams and Solomon shut the door after that.

The Pirates tied the game with a pair of walks and some intelligent baserunning. Only the glove-manship of Cardinals' Frank Morey and Eric Horton prevented more damage and preserved Finn's no-hitter.

The classy Finn struck out six, but lost his bid for Lochmann. Jim Landry continued the rally with a bunt single. Billy Batchelder and Dave Tucker added base hits to account for the additional runs.

The Orioles took advantage of Met wildness in the fourth and drew a series of free passes complemented by RBI doubles by Arthur and Brett Hammond. Four runs crossed the plate.

The Mets staged a comeback in the sixth, but fell short. Lochmann, Batchelder, Rich Radulski and Steffan Tomlinson had base hits resulting in two runs, but Oriole pitcher Carriere struck out the last batter to end the game.

The defensive play of the game was turned in by Oriole centerfielder Arthur who chased down a line shot off the bat of Al Hanley. Oriole catcher Chip Stella made an alert play to pick off a baserunner in the fifth. Orioles' rookies Garrity and Paul Durant continue to impress at second base as does rookie outfielder Goddess. Pitching as shared by Hammond and Carriere with Carriere gaining the win.

Met pitchers were Ryan LeGrow, Ben Russell, Batchelder and Tucker. They were supported by a great diving catch by Jamie Lionette.

Red Sox 15 - Pirates 8

In an inter-league game the Red Sox beat the Pirates 15-8 behind the pitching of Paul Lembo and Sean Ryan. Lembo struck out seven and walked none in three innings. Ryan struck out four and walked four in his three innings.

The Red Sox broke the game open in the second inning scoring eight runs, then came back in the third to score six more. The Pirates rallied for five runs in the sixth, but fell short.

Joe Larrobino had three hits for the Red Sox, including a bases-loaded double in the second. Pete VanOlinda and Lembo chipped in with two hits each with VanOlinda stroking a two-run double. Scott Lanouette led the Pirates with three singles.

immortality when Solomon stroked his clutch single.

Cardinals 7 - Mets 4

The Cards took it to the slumping Mets with a 12-hit barrage.

Steve Caltagirone continued his hot streak with two hits and steady outfield play. Also contributing timely hits were Adam Brown, Alex Sumberg and Frank Morey.

First baseman Sean Gill chalked up a homer, his second "tater" in three games.

Jason Proctor hurled his third consecutive complete game in picking up the mound victory. The versatile Proctor also raised his batting average to .520.

Lightning-quick Brent Rattery did his usual vacuum imitation at shortstop for the Cards.

Met Alan Hanley belted a moonshot.

Cubs 13 - Red Sox 12

The Cubs came back late to snatch this inter-league slugfest away from the Red Sox.

Danny Lennon's game-winning hit capped off an eight-run sixth inning for the Cubs who had fallen behind 12-5.

Albie Minichiello led the Cub's 12-hit attack with three hits and four RBIs. Sean Darwin had two hits and two RBIs while Steven Molineaux and Jason McCue also swung loud lumber.

The Red Sox overcame an early 5-3 deficit with eight runs in the fourth inning, the key blow being a homer by David Sopp.

Cad Livingston was credited with the win.

Cubs 10 - Orioles 9

Chess Awards Presented

The final match and awards ceremony for the Merrimack Valley Chess League was held June 6 at Chelmsford High School.

Westford Academy was the winner.

Other primary participants received plaques to commemorate their efforts for their respective schools. Jason Goodman, John Barron, Chris Harding and Douglas Prugh received awards for Andover West Junior High School.

The Andover chess team was composed of all junior high school students, but was able to score several surprising victories over the senior high school teams.

The league would like to hear from other area schools interested in competition next fall.

For more information, contact Richard Kibberd at North Andover High School or Chet Orban at Andover West Junior High School.

Children's Eyes

An estimated half million children aged three through five in the United States have eye disorders—that's one in every 20 youngsters.

How often should a parent take his child for an eye examination? According to the National Society to Prevent Blindness, the first exam should be shortly after birth and again by age four, then on a periodic basis throughout his growing years.

One of the eye problems of greatest concern among parents is amblyopia or "lazy eye," which may lead to permanent vision loss if not discovered and treated before age six. It frequently gives no signals through appearance or obvious symptoms.

Gagnon Returns On Carrier

Navy Seaman David D. Gagnon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel F. Gagnon, 58 Brookfield Road, Andover, recently returned for a five-month deployment to the Indian Ocean and North Arabian Sea.

He is a crewmember aboard the aircraft carrier USS Midway, operating from Yokosuka, Japan.

During the cruise, the Midway and its battle group, consisting of several U.S. Navy ships, conducted operations in the North Arabian Sea. As the sole U.S. Naval Force in the area, the group showed the determination of the U.S. in keeping the Strait of Hormuz and the sea lines of communication open for international traffic, despite the war between Iran and Iraq.

In March the carrier and its battle group served as the central point of a joint formation with seven ships of the British Royal Navy to form one of the largest international naval groups in recent history of the region. In April the carrier received a special visit from his royal highness, Crown Prince Maha Vajiralongkorn of Thailand.

Port visits were made to Singapore, Subic Bay, Republic of the Philippines, and Pattaya Beach, Thailand.

The Midway is 979 feet long, has a crew of 2,615 plus another 1,800 assigned to its carrier air wing.

Start Of Telephone Co. Building Tops May List

Building permits for the month of May brought in a total of $54,058 in fees to the town's coffers on almost $10 million worth of new building and additions.

The largest single project was a concrete foundation put in at the site of the proposed New England Telephone building on Shattuck Road. The $10 million structure, which telephone officials hope to open by Nov. 1, will be home to a computer center where employees from Burlington and Manchester, N.H., offices may be moved to.

Cynthia Austin, director of Public Relations for New England Telephone told THE TOWNSMAN that the office will be staffed with about 40 employees when it opens in November. She added that there will eventually be 200 employees in the building. The permit fee charged by the town on the project was $26,485.

Austin said that the steel supports are up on the building and workers are putting in the interior plumbing. The architect and engineers on the job are from the Ganteaume and McMullen Inc. firm of Boston. Contractors on the site are Marshall Contractors, from Rumford, R.I.

lives and we are anxious to do this type of project here," explained Peter Mullett.

Mullett declined to say who was designing the structure or specify the cost of rental space. He and his wife have owned the land for five and one-half years, but they haven't yet decided on a contractor. But that isn't keeping their plans at a standstill. Peter Mullett said he wants to have his building open for business sometime in December. The Mulletts received approval from Andover's Industrial Development Finance Authority (IDFA) which will issue low-cost construction loans on the $1 million-plus project. They have yet to receive state IDFA approval of the loans, which must happen before they are issued.

Finlayson said his own contracting company will do his site work. He declined to say how much the mall space will rent for. Finlayson has owned the Park Street land for 12 years. The Heartland supermarket was torn down in November and December of last year and work tearing down other buildings at the rear of the site has been going on, said the property owner.

Study Skills

The special services office at Middlesex Community College will offer a series of free Study Skills Workshops beginning Wednesday, June 27. The five one-hour workshops will be held on Wednesdays beginning at 9:30 a.m. at the Burlington Campus and again on Thursdays at 10:30 a.m. Workshop topics include: "Managing Study Time" (June 27 or 28); "Recording and Remembering Lecture Notes" (July 11 or 12); "How to get the Most from Your Textbook" (July 18 or 19); "Improving Your Memory" (July 25 or 26); and "How to Prepare for and Take Exams" (August 1 or 2). Each workshop involves immediate application of the skills being discussed with additional individual assistance available by appointment. These workshops should be particularly helpful for recent high school graduates or adults who will enter college programs this fall.

space for such duties as plumbing and electrical work, since it will soon be moving out of its current quarters in the Shawsheen School. (The school, most recently used as school administration offices, is being renovated into an early childhood education center.)

He described the new building as a "long 126-foot, low building with fairly narrow windows" and a brick veneer. It will include three bays on one end for maintenance vehicles, he said, adding that the bays would be hidden from view.

The maintenance building will not interfere with the playing fields and will be screened with landscaping so that it will not substantially alter the neighborhood Mahony said.

He emphasized that, contrary to some rumors he has heard, the Shawsheen building will not be used as a vehicle maintenance center or as a storage area for the entire Public Works department, will not include outside storage areas, and will not be a prefabricated building.

Paul Cook of Argyle Street asked whether the "suitable place" could be found for the building elsewhere in Andover. The mayor replied that the site was chosen because it is "reasonably centrally located." He called the maintenance building a "perfectly appropriate use" for the land, adding, "We need these facilities."

After the board voted to approve the site, a motion made by Gerald Silverman, the manager, said he expected work crews to begin construction "in a matter of a week."

Philip Salamone of Carisbrooke Street criticized the officials for not providing Shawsheen residents with more information about the building, he said the plans should have been publicized and discussed more extensively.

Still on the table are plans to possibly add more parking around the Shawsheen playing fields, as well as two restrooms. Salamone suggested that the selectmen hold "a public forum" when they next discuss those possibilities.

To consult is to seek another's advice on a course already decided upon.

was manufactured at this mill in 1842. The building, a four-story brick structure, has been idle for several years.

The school building committee met Monday night but failed to come to any decision on the awarding of a contract for razing old Punchard. There was some question as to the legality of one of the bids. They have been sent to the PWA officials for consideration.

25 Years Ago — June 1959

Some 493 voters voted unanimously Monday night to withdraw the town from an Essex County Mosquito Control Project —but not before some residents registered their belief that the town should take steps to control the pests.

A decision on the purchase of milk for the schools will be made at the next meeting of the School Committee. Bids from two local dairies — Wild Rose Farm and Walnuthurst — were received last week. The Wild Rose Farm bid was 5½ cents a half pint, with an alternate price of five cents, if milk meeting specifications is bought. Sidney P. White, owner of the farm, said the higher price milk would be raised locally and is of higher quality than the lower priced milk.

Miss Beverly Jean Sparks, a 1958 graduate of Andover High School, was chosen "Miss Methuen" at a miniature "Miss America" contest sponsored by the Massachusetts Junior Chamber of Commerce. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James K. Sparks, 20 River St., Ballardvale. As the first "Miss Methuen," she will represent the area in the Miss Massachusetts contest in July, to be held in Taunton.

10 Years Ago — June 1974

The TOPICS plan for improvement of traffic flow through downtown Andover was tabled further Monday by the selectmen on a four-one vote of the board, as the majority followed Selectman George Heseltine's suggestion that state DPW authorities be asked to come forward with how much of the overall plan the town must accept. The board has heard complaints about the loss of parking spaces as suggested in the plan.

Atty. Gerald M. Cohen, 5 William St., has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the Andover representative seat. Atty. Cohen recently passed the Massachusetts Bar and was sworn in Monday morning.

The Andover School Committee made reorganization official Monday night, by demolishing the two assistant superintendent positions and approving a new number two "associate superintendent" spot. The action came despite a last ditch effort by administrators to persuade the committee otherwise, and immediately after, the principals were challenged to make "loyalty" statements by Committeeman George Olesen.

Greens

The week-long deluge, which hit New England late May to early June, produced a devastating effect on crops and farmland. Hardest hit was the Connecticut River Valley where a large potato and vegetable crop spent most of the week submerged under water. Much of the area reported a total loss of crops, but many growers are already replanting.

Look for salad greens grown in Massachusetts, butterhead lettuce, such as Boston and Bibb, has a slightly flattened head which is softer and smaller than that of Iceberg. Its leaves are light green and tender with a buttery flavor.

Looseleaf or "bunching" lettuces such as Green leaf, Salad Bowl or red leaf varieties have smooth, soft leaves and vary in color, depending on the variety.

Other native produce items at the markets now are scallions, radishes, asparagus, rhubarb, strawberries, zucchini and summer squash.

The best quality greens have a good, healthy color and fresh-looking, tender leaves. Lettuce greens are a great source of fiber and vitamin A. Greens other than spinach provide a good amount of calcium.

4000S FOUR-DOOR SPORTS SEDAN

4000S QUATTRO SPORTS SEDAN

When you consider how well equipped each Audi 4000S is, it's quite an engineering feat that they are so affordable.

The two 4000S sports sedans, for example, are aerodynamically sleek, feature front-wheel drive, rack-and-pinion steering, advanced fuel injected 4-cylinder engines, air conditioning, cruise control and the sort of comforting ergonomic interiors you expect in German luxury sport sedans. The surprise is, the engineering and luxury is not optional.

But the biggest surprise is the 4000S Quattro. It's the car that history will record as pivotal in the evolution of the passenger car. The German engineers at Audi combined permanent all-wheel drive with independent four-wheel suspension and four-wheel disc brakes to bring the driver a keener sensation of handling, cornering and stopping performance. And the interior appointments make it possible for passengers to enjoy this new driving experience as much as the driver.

The Audi sports sedans are worth a closer look. And even better than a look, a test drive. After you've experienced Audi's amazing engineering feats for yourself, we think you'll agree, the prices are sheer genius. 24 Month Unlimited Mileage Warranty.

Crossing Guards

turned to her — at least. "I hope they like me!" she says, laughing. "I've had very few problems. Most of them have been very good."

The job has had its miserable moments, however, chief among them "traveling up-town in the winter," she says without hesitation. "I hate driving in bad weather."

Mrs. Dunn sought the job because "I like children and I thought it would be interesting," she recalls. She has not been disappointed: She's stayed with it for 23 years because "I found it interesting, and my kids were all great," she explains.

Somehow, over the years she never thought much about leaving her job. "I just kept on going." But this year, her friend and colleague Priscilla Watson decided to retire, and Mrs. Dunn began to talk about the possibility herself.

The fact that her husband has retired also influenced her decision. "I figured it was time I retired, too." Now she'll have more time to visit her newest grandson, born five months ago in California ("I'd like to go and see him as soon as possible"), as well as her other eight grandchildren ("and two more are on the way").

She shares her friend's "mixed feelings" about giving up her uniform. "I'm happy about it, and yet I know I'm going to miss it."

"I can look out my window and see my crossing," Jessie Dunn says, with an echo of what first inspired her to become a school crossing guard so many years ago.

And next September, she says a little sadly, "I'll see someone else standing there."

Hearings At New Location

Sun Alert

Dermatologists have long recognized the fact that the sun's ultra-violet rays are responsible not just for sun tanning, but for other problems, too: dry, leathery skin, premature wrinkles, even skin cancer. And although these effects won't be visible immediately, they can show up later—and there'll be no way to undo the damage.

Stock up on at least two different types of sunscreen: one for the more sensitive areas and another for the rest of your body. Use them whenever you're in the sun, not just on the beach. Reapply about once every two hours and before and after each dip. Be careful of sneaky suntraps like cloudy days, pools and beach umbrellas. The sun's rays can go through fog and clouds, water (up to three feet down from the surface) and "bounce off" sand. Plan your tanning time before 11 a.m. and after 3 p.m. The high point of the sun's day is from noon to 2 p.m.—so that's when the direct rays have the most burning power.

Prior to the adoption of the 12th Amendment in 1804, the candidate who came in second in a presidential race automatically became vice-president.

EARNEST MONEY

An offer to buy is usually accompanied by a substantial deposit, sometimes called a binder or earnest money. The sum proves to the seller that you mean business. The deposit is usually placed with the broker who keeps it in a special trust, or escrow account, separate from his or her own funds.
If your offer is rejected, the agent returns your money immediately.

The amount normally put on deposit is 10% of the purchase price, but this amount could be higher or lower depending on the circumstances. Remember, though,
that the seller is weighing your offer to see if it's likely to result in a successful sale. Unaccompanied by enough cash, it may look a little snaky.

This earnest money, of course, counts toward the sum you'll need at closing. Your full deposit is credited toward the down payment and other settlement costs. The contract should clearly state
under what circumstances it may be returned.

Planners

there," he said.

Neighbors described blowing sand that coats their cars and houses, piles up inside their windows, and makes it difficult to breathe on windy days.

The residents were seeking "relief" from the conditions they described, Corey said. But Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said that according to a June 14 letter from the building inspector — who is responsible for enforcing town restrictions on the country club project — Cormier is not in violation of any town laws or regulations in the area.

Mahony read a status report from Building Inspector Sam DeSalvo. According to that report, the manager said: three lots at the back of Haskell Road were to be loamed as of Monday afternoon; Worthen Place was to be blacktopped by the end of this month; and dirt now stockpiled between Haskell Road and Endicott Street was to be removed.

The entire area is scheduled to be loamed and seeded, the manager added, but according to the terms of town bylaws, it is not technically considered "open" land. "I don't believe that in the area that's open, we can do any more than lean on (the developer) to keep it moist" to prevent blowing, Mahony said.

The manager said he hoped to meet with Cormier later this week.

Corey noted that town bylaws and planning board regulations contain no specific provisions for dust control. The community development director, who was present at Monday's meeting, said that was "correct."

(The director added that he believes Cormier will seek approvals for "the next one-third to one-half of the subdivision" within the coming month.)

Chairman Donn Byrne said the developer's efforts to control blowing sand have been "less than satisfactory," adding that he was "disappointed" in Cormier's "lack of responsibility" for the problem. He said he wanted to see "more emphasis on dust control" at the subdivision.

But James Cedrone of Lowell Street said

Street said the problem was, at this point, "not so much Cormier" as the town's "not enforcing" laws and regulations.

Other neighbors said they could not believe the developer was in compliance with bylaws and regulations: "We are there on a daily basis," Jean Corley of Lowell Street told the board. "Perhaps Mr. DeSalvo is not reporting appropriately."

Mahony replied, "We're not saying it's all right — we're saying that to the best of our knowledge, he's complying with the bylaw."

Selectman Gerald Silverman said, "There isn't much that can be done until the darn thing is finished."

The manager agreed that "the best thing is to get it built as soon as possible" because, ultimately, only growing lawns and blacktopped roads will end the problem of blowing sand at Andover Country Club Estates.

Green Plates

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Alan Mackey advises that all passenger vehicle number plates, with the exception of Dealer, Repair, Farm and Motorcycle plates, should be green on silver. Motorists displaying red on silver plates should contact their local registry office.

Some motorists have attached the current green plates to the rear of the vehicle while continuing to display the expired red plate on the front. Mackey warns that the red plate on the front must be removed as it is illegal to display an expired plate.
